Krug Tops List of U. S. Witnesses Against Lewis

ACTION SLOW AS TRIAL GOES INTO 3RD DAY

Mine Chief's Lawyers Hammer at Mine Administrator in Cross-Examination.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government today announced it will call Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and 10 other witnesses in the trial of John L. Lewis on contempt charges in the soft coal strike.

As the third day of the trial opened, United Mine Workers' counsel was still hammering in cross-examination at the first government witness, federal coal mines administrator N. H. Collisson.

John F. Sonnett, chief government counsel, interrupted to announce his full panel of prospective witnesses, explaining he did so as a courtesy to the defense.

Krug may take the stand tomorrow. Today, he had a date with the house surplus property committee. The committee wants him to testify on the possibility of utilizing the wartime big and little inch pipelines to carry natural gas to the east to ease the coal shortage.

Gives Names.

Sonnett said that in addition to Krug and Collission, the government will call these witnesses:

Alfred Oeth, of Paramount News; Joseph A. Genau, special FBI agent; Lt. Cmdr. Hamilton Acheson, coal mines administrator of the Iowa sub-area office; Lt. Cmdr. R. H. Behncke, coal mines administrator of the Fairmont, West Va., area; Briggs M. Rogers, general superintendent of the Bardeleben Coal Corp., Sipsey, Ala.; Lt. Ralph N. Ciaiola, coal mines administration representative from the sub area office in Uniontown, Pa.; Dr. Glenn Parker, chief prices and markets sub section, coal economics division of the bureau of mines; Dr. Philip Hauser, assistant to secretary of commerce Harriman; and George Haas, director of research and statistics for the treasury department.

A hearing on the court's restraining order probably will follow the contempt trial.

If Lewis is found guilty of contempt—and Judge Goldsborough has said flatly that he believes Lewis is guilty—the union plans to carry the fight to the circuit court of appeals.

* * *

Build Case.

With this in mind, the UMW leader's attorneys are building a case in the present trial designed to show that government operation of the mines it seized is only a "token operation," and that for this reason the sovereign power of the government is not involved.

Goldsborough held that it was when he ruled last week that the Norris-La Guardia anti-injunction act does not apply in the Lewis case. He said the court had a right to enjoin a labor union when a "potential public calamity," threatened.

STRIKE LIKELY TO IDLE MILLION

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— Lack of fuel today idled more than 104,000 persons—in addition to 400,000 miners—as more and more coal consuming industries shut down in the soft coal crisis with the prospect of sharply rising unemployment ahead.

The long holiday weekend tended to hold down unemployment but twin hazards of coal shortages and dwindling supplies of steel promised to strike hard blows this week with possibilities of 1,000,000 being laid off at week's end.

Steel ingot production in the Youngstown district stood at 35 per cent of capacity, compared with 91 per cent two weeks ago. Unofficial estimates put loss of wages at more than $1,000,000.

Forty switching crews were laid off by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad in Ohio while the Pennsylvania furloughed 20 men and three crews.

In New York state, the Schenectady plant of General Electric laid off about 250 porcelain department workers with one spokesman predicting "slow strangulation."

Unemployment of almost a quarter of a million was predicted for the Pittsburgh district by industrial spokesmen who said the coal reserve had dwindled from 110,000 tons to between 75,000 and 80,000.

The steel industry received a new jolt in a Pittsburgh address by Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the CIO's United Steel Workers union, who said steel workers would expect substantial wage boosts during 1947, a year Murray predicted would be the greatest steel year in the nation's history.

COAL SHORTAGE HITS CITY

ASHLAND YOUTH DIES IN CRASH NEAR WOOSTER

Three Other College Students Injured as Automobile Skids on Turn.

Robert Fritzinger, 22, of Ashland, a student at Ohio Wesleyan university, was killed and another Ashland student was injured early yesterday in an automobile accident near Wooster.

Also killed in the accident was Margaret Ann Record, 19, of Knoxville, Tenn., a student at the College of Wooster. Ann Seaton, 19, of Berea, and Richard McGeary, 22, of Ashland, both Western Reserve students, were injured.

Fourteen Ohioans met violent death over the holiday weekend, with traffic accidents claiming nine of the victims, the Associated Press reported.

Fritzinger was killed when the automobile which he was driving failed to make a turn on a highway west of Wooster, skidded across a ditch and struck an embankment.

* * *

Condition Not Serious.

McGeary and Miss Seaton were taken to Beeson hospital in Wooster, where their condition today was described as not serious.

Fritzinger was the son of Paul C. Fritzinger and Mrs. Mildred McKinley Fritzinger, both of Ashland. He was a sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan, and was returning to school after spending the holiday in Ashland.

A World War II veteran, he served three years with the Army Air forces overseas. He was a graduate of Ashland high school, and was a member of the Methodist church and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Surviving are his parents and a brother, Allen William Fritzinger, all of Ashland.

Youth Hurt At Crestline.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Gilbert funeral home in Ashland, with Rev. Charles S. Applegath, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

Meanwhile, Charles Briton jr., 20, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was in "poor" condition at Crestline Emergency hospital today, following an automobile accident yesterday afternoon six miles west of Crestline on U. S. Route 30-N.

State Highway patrol officers said Briton suffered internal injuries when his car skidded off the highway, striking a telephone pole and overturning in a ditch.

Richard Beatty and Junior Brake, both of Cardington, were treated at Galion City hospital yesterday following an automobile accident near Galion. They were released after treatment for face lacerations, abrasions and bruises.

* * *

Farmer Injured.

Grover Hotelling, 59, Wyandot county farmer, remained in critical condition in Bucyrus City hospital today from injuries suffered on a highway near his home.

County officers said Hotelling was found on the highway after his horses had returned home without him. It is believed he may have been struck by an automobile.

In Mansfield, Richard E. Heinberger, 22, 332 Chester avenue, was released after treatment for shock at General hospital early Sunday after he was thrown from his motorcycle at North Diamond and East Sixth streets Saturday night.

Eight traffic accidents within a period of 14 hours were reported in Ashland yesterday, but no serious injuries were listed. Police blamed icy streets for the series of crashes.

Rescuers Find 2 Lost In Mountains

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(INS)—Two women school teachers lost on a desolate Blue Ridge mountain north of Harrisburg were found huddled safely by a fire today by searching parties of state police and volunteers who had plodded through snow drifts for six hours.

The teachers—Miss Marion L. Forney, of Paxtang, a Harrisburg suburb, and Miss Beatrice Watkins, of Wiconisco—had gone into the woods yesterday on a hiking expedition to find evergreen boughs for decorating their classrooms.

Fire Destroys Galion Church

By CATHERINE RORICK (N-J State Correspondent)

GALION—The church and parsonage of the First Evangelical United Brethren church were gutted by fire last night. Total loss was estimated at $85,000.

Both the church and the parsonage, which are adjoining, were destroyed by the blaze, which was discovered about 9:30 p. m.

The Galion fire department fought the fire until 4 a. m. today, and the last fire line was not removed until 7:30. For a time at the height of the fire, several nearby residences were threatened.

Lloyd Moore, who lives across the street from the church on East Walnut street, a block from the center of town, suffered a heart attack during the fire.

Rev. C. V. Roop, pastor of the church, discovered the fire in the church basement shortly after conclusion of evening services.

The fire spread quickly to the parsonage, and both buildings were destroyed. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Manuscript Lost.

Included in the loss was the manuscript of a religious work upon which Rev. Roop had been working for several years. The pastor's family also lost all their personal belongings, including clothing.

A high wind and intensely cold weather hampered firemen. Water from the firelines froze in the street, creating hazardous traffic conditions near the scene of the fire.

All of Galion's fire equipment was called out and, in addition, Bucyrus and Crestline fire departments each sent one truck.

Five 2½ inch lines were thrown into action.

The church and parsonage, built in 1900, were constructed of red brick with a wooden interior.

The parsonage was occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Roop, Mrs. Roop's invalid mother, Mrs. Della Heaton, and Mrs. Roop's cousin, Mrs. Belle Kinney, of McClure, O.

Mrs. Heaton, who uses a wheel chair, was carried from the residence by Rev. Roop before the fire spread to the parsonage.

ARMY TO DECIDE SOON ON DRAFT

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An army decision is expected this week on whether to resume the draft in January after a two-month holiday—a step manpower advisors are reported to favor.

Officials said recommendations were in the hands of Secretary Patterson and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff, awaiting action.

Those advisers favoring a call on selective service for a quota next month are understood to contend it would spur volunteer recruiting as well as supplement it.

Latest reports show volunteer recruiting took an upward turn in the third week of November, after a steady decline for more than a month. But for the entire month a total of only about 20,000 was expected, representing little more than half the 37,000 monthly fixed by the war department as a minimum requirement of the regular army.

COMMUNISTS WEAK IN AMERICAN ZONE

FRANKFURT—(U.P.)—The Christian Socialist union (Catholic) party was established today as the leading political group in the American zone of Germany on the basis of complete unofficial returns from Sunday's elections.

The Christian Socialists polled 1,592,880 votes yesterday to capture 104 seats in the Bavarian legislature. Their overwhelming majority represented 52.2 per cent of the votes cast.

The Communist party polled 195,491 votes, or 6.5 per cent of the total vote, and received no seats in the legislature since it failed to obtain 10 per cent of the votes in any of the five major districts.

Double Funeral Rites For Boy Cousins Set For Tomorrow

Double funeral services for Robert Guthrie, 17, Mansfield high school senior, and his cousin, Charles Ufferman, 11, of Delaware, who were downed Saturday in the Scioto river north of Columbus, will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., at the Ramsey-Mohr funeral home in Delaware. Burial will be in the Oakgrove cemetery, Delaware.

The Guthrie boy's body was returned to the Finefrock funeral home in Mansfield today. Friends may call there until 10 p. m. today.

The boys' bodies were recovered Sunday morning, the Guthrie youth's at 9:30 a. m. and the other boy's about a half hour later.

The boys drowned Saturday afternoon when they tried to cross the river in a water-logged rowboat they found along the shore. The Ufferman boy's older brother, who had been hunting with the pair, told Columbus authorities he heard the boys call for help as the boat started sinking, but was unable to reach them in time to save them.

Young Guthrie, who made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray B. Williams, 506 Woodville road, was the son of Edward Guthrie, an army sergeant, and Mrs. Harold Gardner of Powell.

Besides his parents and his uncle and aunt, he is survived by three sisters, Shirley Guthrie and Carolyn and Dickie Gardner of Powell.

RUSSIAN PRESS LAUDS MOLOTOV

LONDON —(AP)— An unexpected new publicity buildup for Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov in the government-controlled Russian press set tongues wagging throughout Europe today in the popular game of trying to pick Prime Minister Stalin's successor.

Many diplomats and others who had not regarded Molotov as the most likely candidate were inclined to guess again after Moscow newspapers, reporting the 56-year-old Russian diplomat's election as an honorary member of the Soviet Academy of Science, lauded him lengthily as Stalin's closest assistant.

Public praise came less than a month after Stalin, 67 years old and by some accounts in poor health, failed for the second consecutive year to take part in the recent nationwide celebration of the Russian Revolution anniversary.

To some students of Soviet affairs it looked as though Stalin might be stepping down, or perhaps by gradually relinquishing his powers, and as though Molotov was perhaps being groomed for advancement.

Molotov, undoubtedly the Russian leader best known to the western world by virtue of his prominence in the big power deliberation at London, Paris and New York, has been a life-long worker for the Communist party and is one of eight vice chairmen of Russia's council of ministers, of which Stalin is chairman.

SCHOOLS STAY OPEN

MARTINS FERRY —(INS)— Seventeen Pease township teachers called off their threatened strike today before its school-opening deadline. Richard Evans, principal of the Lansing school who organized the teachers in their threat, said an agreement was reached to continue teaching without a wage increase.

Subs Using 'Schnorkel Schnozzle'

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The Navy, it was disclosed today, is planning to equip all submarines in the active fleet with the "Schnorkel," a German-developed device that enables some U-boats to stay submerged for over two months.

Rear Adm. Charles W. Styer, naval coordinator of naval undersea warfare, said the 1,600-ton Irex would be the first American submarine to carry the underwater breathing equipment.

The new gear will be installed on the Irex during a regular three-month overhaul at the Portsmouth, N. H., naval yard. Some 80 other submarines also will be outfitted with the new equipment as they report for overhaul.

Lets Subs Breathe.

The "Schnorkel" is a long steel tube that breaks the surface of the water from depths of 55 feet. When it is extended, batteries can be charged and the air changed in the submarine without its surfacing. Naval intelligence reports show that some German U-boats stayed underwater from 40 to 70 days.

"We aren't overlooking any bets from research and development of captured enemy equipment of any kind," Styer told a reporter.

The Navy has been experimenting with the breathing device as it was used on the former German U-boats 2513 and 3008. President Truman boarded the 2513 for a cruise and dive during his recent vacation at Key West, Fla.

Styer, a veteran of 24 years in the submarine service, believes the modified submarine will "no longer be merely a surface vessel capable of submerging; it is a true undersea boat in every sense of the word."

"It may well be the major sea weapon of tomorrow," he said.

Tresses Will Be Trimmed, Say Stylists

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Prepare your tresses for a trimming, ladies, if you want to be in style next year.

That was the latest word today from the Cleveland unit of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association, now meeting here.

Albert (Lemson) of Fifth avenue, a New York stylist, said the new hair length would be from three to five inches.

As he put it, "the American woman is an individualist," who "likes frequent changes and freedom from clips, wires, rats and lacquer."

Albert quickly emphasized, however, that milady was not thinking of returning to "the atrocities of 1920—the Buster Brown, windblown and shingle."

FIRE HITS NORWALK BUSINESS BUILDINGS

NORWALK —(INS)— A down town Norwalk blaze caused damage estimated today at $20,000 to three business buildings in Norwalk's worst fire in more than six years.

One fireman, Paul Shibley, was overcome as the city's entire firefighting force battled the flames for nearly two hours last night. The destroyed two-story structures were those of Otto J. Leiber's Market, Carney's restaurant and the Witter Brothers' tire shop.

The market, a brick structure, had recently been completely redecorated with deep-freezing equipment installed. A family of three above the restaurant was routed but escaped.

Girl Eats Nickel, Gets 200% Return

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — (U.P.) — Physicians went probing by instrument to retrieve a five cent coin four year old Phyllis Dean of Harlan, Ky., swallowed.

She was rushed here for an operation when the nickel lodged in her throat. But when physicians pulled out a fragile tubular instrument they turned over a 200 per cent interest to the youngster's parents. Along with the nickel came a dime Phyllis swallowed some time back.

FRIGID WAVE FINDS STOCKS NEARLY GONE

Dealers Report Bins Empty, Predict Hardship For Families in 2 Weeks.

Mansfield was faced with a critical fuel shortage today as the season's first severe cold wave, which dropped the mercury to eight degrees above zero, caught many dealers in the city with empty bins or scant supplies.

Some dealers said if the cold and mine strike continue, many families and businesses will have to find substitute fuels or "suffer hardship within two weeks."

The cold wave which swept into Ohio yesterday from Canada brought the season's first snow in Mansfield. Enough fell during Sunday afternoon to leave a thin coating on the ground. Today's low of eight above equalled the lowest recorded in Ohio this morning.

Stays Another Day.

Fair and continued cold was forecast for tonight and tomorrow. It was much warmer today in the northern states, however, so the temperature should start rising here by tomorrow night, the weatherman said.

One Mansfield coal dealer said he expected some trucked-in coal from West Virginia this week. Others said there was no immediate relief in sight.

Emmett W. Casey said the situation "will be bad if the strike lasts two more weeks."

"Those who bought only a ton or two of coal because they thought they'd be able to get more later on, will be coming in soon for more and we won't have it," Casey said.

A spokesman for the Builder's Supply company said his last 40 tons will go out of the yard this week.

Other dealers out of coal were the Hecht Coal company, Kallmerten and Baer and the Nutter Coal company. Spokesmen at the Kallmerten and Baer company said they haven't been able to catch up on orders since last summer. The Nutter company has only 25 tons of slack on hand.

William E. Powley, bookkeeper for the Laser and Walker Coal company, said coal was expected to be trucked in from West Virginia this week. He said the additional

9 SHIPS HEAD FOR ANTARCTIC

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MT. OLYMPUS AT NORFOLK, VA. —(AP)—Operation High Jump, the Navy's expedition ot the South Polar regions, prepared to shove off at 1 p. m. (E.S.T.) today on a 10,000-mile voyage for cold weather tests and new explorations of the mysteries of Antarctica.

Four ships, the Mt. Olympus, Headquarters and Flag ship; the ice-breaker Northwind, seaplane tender Pine Island, and destroyer Brownston, are sailing simultaneously with five ships from the west coast.

The ships will sail into tropical weather, then into frigid zones, ice packs, past majestic icebergs that may measure 40 miles long, and probably blizzard and storms on the world's roughest sea, the Antarctic ocean.

The unit leaving Norfolk hopes to pass through the Panama Canal Saturday, then give all hands liberty in Balboa for two days.

From Balboa, it will head nonstop to the Antarctic after rendezvous with the ships leaving San Diego and Port Hueneme, Calif.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—The Newspaper Guild of New York, recently announced the winners of a set of dubious honors called the Page One awards. Among them were Henry Wallace and the late Sidney Hillman, founder of the C. I. O.'s Political Action Committee. Hillman's old colleagues in the murky and conspiratorial field of European unionism in New York had accused him of collaborating with the Stalinite fifth column here.

The New York Times published in its Vox Pop a few days later, a letter from one who signed himself Edward Hunter.

"A a newspaperman and a member of the Newspaper Guild of New York," Mr. Hunter said, the list of those recognized by the Guild "showed a distinct communist bias. There was no referendum to select the names. They were just communist-selected."

With a salute to Mr. Hunter for his courage in inviting all the nasty harassments that will make him wretched in newspaper, news-magazine and radio shops henceforth, we proceed to the next development.

This is a letter to the Times, signed John T. McManus, president of the Newspaper Guild of New York, condemning Mr. Hunter's statements as " a series of cranky misstatements written to justify a cranky conclusion—that the Guild's Page One awards were 'communist-selected'."

McManus named the "jury" of Guild members who made the decisions but left unchallenged the essential point of Mr. Hunter's protest. That was that the members of the Guild were not polled in a referendum which might have wrought other results

He says the "jury" acted on 110 "nominations originally selected from an extensive list of top-flight personalities in the fields of films, drama, music, dance, books, sports, art, photography and public affairs

Among those invited to make the original nominations there were 75 Guild members "occupying authoritative positions as commentators, critics or editors in these fields of leading newspapers, magazines and radio stations in New York."

Forty persons finally did submit nominations, eight of whom were not members of the Guild, Mr. McManus said.

Now, coming to the jury, we did find one name that really does give aid and comfort to Mr. Hunter For Mr. McManus says William S. Gailmor attended the jury meeting but was unable to remain to cast his vote. And then he adds that Gailmor, himself, got one of the awards for his distinguished work as a radio commentator.

What is William S. Gailmor doing in any society of decent American newspapermen, if that is what the Guild purports to be? And must good American newspaper workers, including so many who fought the war while this gold-brick went around lecturing to battleshock patients on his own awful agony as a thief who couldn't help stealing, have to put up with that indignity to hold their jobs under the Wagner act? It is a fact, they must.

Gailmor! Right name Margolis. Stole five automobiles, got caught three times, paid himself out twice and finally was nabbed and got away with a plea that he had a "compulsion neurosis," meaning that he just couldn't help stealing.

Well, guildsmen, honorable American journalists, there is your hero. This is the man you had to honor, to your own disgrace, you may say, with an award to a handwashing, cringing thief who doctored the news, and now comes by that award of yours for preaching on the air a program that might sicken you but never Josef Stalin, a young 200-pounder who hollered for a second front and stormed Omaha Beach with you in absentia.

Othman — On Anything

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Unflap your earmuffs, friends, and put your mittens on the shelf behind the stove so we can open the yellow cover of the Old Farmer's Almanac. Pile on some more wood.

"This," says the old farmer, "will be a real, old-fashioned winter with plenty of snow and cold weather—the kind that grandpa knew when he was a boy."

The old farmer knows. He predicted snow for July 13, 1803. It DID snow.

For 155 years now the almanac has been issuing the gospel truth about the tides, the phases of the moon, how to keep from burning down the barn, when to catch a mess of hornpout, and the date for battening down the storm cellar door. Publisher Robb Sagendorph writes from Dublin, N. H., that there's been nary a complaint in all that time. So if the ice has melted from your whiskers, let us gaze upon 1947:

January: stormy, raw winds, slippery going, rain, snow, fog and sleet. As you will want your workshop stove heated in these bitter months it is best to have it in a separate building pretty well away from your hay barns.

February: Falling weather. Set hens 21st to 28th. Still wintry. More comfortable indoors. Ever try raising squabs? A sure market there with the summer people.

March: Stormy. High winds. Altogether unpleasant until 25th. A few mild days. High time now to get your feet out of the oven. Mend everything that isn't junk and save the junk.

April: Pleasant. Then changes to lowery and dank. 11th, cold easterly storm with snow. A hive of bees to every acre of orchard is ample. Do not depend on wild honey bees and bumble bees for pollination.

May: Mackerel skies may hold rain until 5th. Windy and disagreeable. 19th, May shower. 29th rainy days. Nature feeds the poor farmer with her half truths, her false promises, her juggling oracles. About now he's looking for late frosts. He can forget his worries with his fishing pole. A good mess of hornpout fried crisp beats the sleekest trout.

June: Cooler. May hail, 10th. Now much warmer, 20th. Good growing weather. Real warm. His night wandering cattle punch through the idle fences of the careless farmer to munch his neighbor's garden. Better no fence than a poor one.

July: Cold and rain 8th scorching sun. 21st, sultry, 28th, moist. There's still the old swimming hole.

August: Showers. 9th dry spell. 20th, rains hard. Much cooler. Saw your cordwood now and get it under cover.

September: Storms. Frost in places, 16th. Bad storm due, 23rd. Sow fields before 20th. Don't miss the county fair.

October: Good fall days. Heavy rains. 9th. Brisk. Raw. Cold. Snappy. This is a good month to set out trees, either fruit or shade. First killing frost, 24th.

November: Cold and stormy, might snow. Good spell, 17th through 20th. Chilly. Rains or snows. The hunter's moon. Prune your grapevines.

December: Unfavorable. Clouds denote snow, 6th. Milder now, but better pull the rug to the crack of the door. Fine between dull days. Christmas, snowy. The cold reddens our cheeks and waters our eyes. And so to the New Year.

And as the publisher adds, the second cold year in a row. Good mostly for muskrats. Thickens their fur.

INSTITUTE SET FOR TEACHERS IN RURAL AREAS

Instructors Meet Wednesday Night at Ontario.

Teachers in Richland county rural schools will meet at the Ontrio high school at 8 p. m. Wednesday for the second teachers' institute program of the school term, it was announced today by Boyd Robinson, county superintendent.

Serving on the program committee are Eugene H. Rider, superintendent of the Butler schools, chairman, and Howard L. Hofacre, superintendent of the Lexington schools.

County school administrators have been assigned to meet with the various groups, and those not assigned will meet in a general high school discussion group, Robinson said.

Program topics and those leading the discussions are: Reading—Mrs. Grace Gwirtz, Shelby, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Lois Hedeen, Shiloh, Mrs. Agnes McFadden, Plymouth. For the administrators, Glenn Guthrie, Union rural high school.

English — R. D. McCollough, Mansfield, R. D. 5, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Sarah Hink, Mansfield, Mrs. Rosemary Thrush, Mansfield. For the administrators, Howard Hofacre, Lexington high schools.

Mathematics — Hobart Robinson, Mansfield, chairman assisted by Floyd Beal, Butler.

Cafeteria—Mrs. Helen Baer, Mansfield, R. D. 5. For the administrators, Boyd Robinson, county superintendent.

Health and Physical Education —Miss Ruth Oesterle, Bellville, (health), John Rees, Lexington, (physical education).

Vocational Agriculture — Earl Hetrick, Lucas, chairman. For the administrators, W. S. Barger, Lucas.

Administrators assigned to the General High School Discussion Group are D. D. Rummel, Bellville, chairman, assisted by Eugene H. Rider, Butler, P. I. VanBrunt, Plymouth, and Randall Hartley of Shiloh.

MISS ACKERMAN DIES AT HOME

Miss Ida M. Ackerman, for many years a resident of Mansfield and a retired Westinghouse employe, died at her home, 294 West Third street, Sunday at 9.30 a. m., following a brief illness

Although born in Canton, Miss Ackerman had spent most of her life here. She was a member of the First Congregational church.

Surviving are three sisters, Miss Jeanette and Miss Florence Ackerman at the home, and Mrs. Rufus King of Mansfield, two nieces, Mrs. Robert Quinn of Syracuse, N. Y., and Mrs. Thomas Mowrey of Mansfield and a nephew, Jerome King, also of Mansfield.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m., by Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

FREE 30 MINUTES, FACES 2-YEAR TERM

Free for 30 minutes this morning, a 21-year-old Mansfield reformatory inmate today faced an additional two-year sentence after he was captured by OSR officers on Springmill road

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said Lee Gilbert, who was received in September, 1944, from Hamilton county on a 1-25 year sentence for robbery, was caught by guards at 7 a. m., half an hour after he fled the reformatory's farm. Night Capt. Cecil Briggs captured the youth.

Shelby Annexation Arranged By Board

Richland county commissioners today had cleared the way for the city of Shelby to annex four parcels of land lying on the south and southeast borders of that city, C. L. Shoup, chairman of the board reported.

The board of commissioners turned down a request for annexation of one other parcel after property owners objected, Shoup said.

ATOMIC BOMB had its birth four years ago today when Dr. Enrico Fermi, using the pooled knowledge of such scientists as Dr. Ernest Lawrence, set up the first atomic chain reaction on an abandoned squash court at Chicago's Stagg field. The first man-made atomic fission mushroomed into the famed Manhattan Project under direction of Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves and in less than three years the results of the Chicago experiment made possible mass production of the bomb and an abrupt end to the war. (International News Service).

200 Scouts and Parents Attend Troop Anniversary

Two hundred Boy Scouts, parents, and guests attended Troop 18's anniversary observance in Central Methodist church Saturday evening

The Moms and Dads Clubs of the troop served a banquet supper, which was followed by a program of stunts, fun, and singing.

Highlighting the affair was a playlet entitled "Mr. W and Mr. M See Ghosts," staged by the Green Bar patrol It depicted events in the year 1966.

The Moms Club presented an act, several numbers were sung by a quartet of dads, a comedy skit was staged by the Scouts, and Scout Richard Devers gave a vocal solo.

Awards of $10, $5, and $3 were received by Scouts Darrell Morris, Charles Watts, and Fritz Raitch for handicraft entries.

The Paul Miller award, given annually to Troop 18's outstanding Scout, was presented jointly to Junior Assistant Scoutmasters Bill Wilmoth and Marvin Morris.

Senior Patrol Leader Harry Wilmoth received a medal for three years of perfect attendance at troop meetings, while Marvin Morris, Norman Yarger and James Handley were awarded medals for two years of perfect attendance, and Vic Geib, Tom Plaut, Ken McCally, and Fritz Raitch received one-year badges.

Thirty-six Scouts were awarded gold Civic Duty pins for the performance of 40 hours of community service during the past year.

F. A. Berkey, president of the Dads Club; Mrs. N. C. Yarger, president of the Moms Club, and Scoutmaster C E Wilmoth and his assistants, D C. Morris and Erwin Davis, headed up the affair

Board To Set Up Teacher Pay Boosts

The Mansfield board of education was scheduled to meet in special session late this afternoon to set up pay increases for teachers and other employes as provided for by the passage of the three-mill school levy last month.

Supt W. L. Miller said the board would act on salary schedule recommendations submitted by a committee of teachers and school officials The increases are expected to be about $500 a year.

HEARING OPENS IN MOYER CASE

Ellsworth Moyer, 32, of Galion, charged with rape with consent of a 12-year-old girl, went on trial today in Richland county common pleas court before a panel of three out-of-county judges.

Moyer had previously won acquital on a charge of rape without consent. As in this case, Moyer waived trial by jury and was tried before three judges, one of whom was Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch of Richland county.

Hearing the case today are Judges Clarence U Ahl of Crawford county, H E. Culbertson of Ashland county and D. A. Cook of Lorain county. Judge Kalbfleisch is disqualified since he heard the previous case.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz and and Claude F Ewing were presenting the state's case while counsel for the defense were George W. Biddle of Mansfield and George W. Coble of Galion.

BUDGET CALLS FOR PAYMENT ON U. S. DEBT

GOP Leader Demands Deeper Slash in Expenditures By Cutting Payroll.

WASHINGTON —(UP)— President Truman appeared determined today to battle vigorously against Republican proposals for a 20 per cent cut in personal income taxes next year.

The president, it was learned, is tentatively planning an "economy" budget calling for about $37,000,000,000 in government spending in the 1948 fiscal year but contemplating no slash in present taxes.

With tax rates left unchanged, Mr. Truman figures federal income for the new fiscal year, starting next July 1, at about $40,000,000,000. The $3,000,000,000 remaining over estimated government spending would be applied to the national debt.

Mr. Truman's revised budget for the present fiscal year calls for spending of $41,500,000,000 and allows for a $1,900,000,000 deficit.

The president will submit his new budget to the Republican-controlled 80th congress soon after it convenes Jan. 3. Although he is contemplating substantial economies, Mr. Truman is virtually certain to be challenged by horse Republicans who want the government to spend even less and to slash taxes to boot.

Rep. John Taber, R., N. Y., who is in line to head the House Appropriations committee, believes the government could get along on $29,141,000,000 or about $8,000,000,000 less than the president plans. Taber thinks that can be done if some 1,000,000 "useless" federal workers are fired.

On that basis, Republican tax leaders in the house have promised the public a 20 per cent across-the-board tax reduction for 1947. Republican leaders in the senate generally have steered clear of such flat promises.

Administration tax experts say it is far simpler to talk about economy than to accomplish it. They believe house Republicans will agree with them when they begin digging into the facts

The final estimate for the new budget has not been agreed upon. The president, however, already has sent word to department heads that he doesn't want any lobbying for increases when his figures go to congress.

GIRL RELEASED TO HER PARENTS

Sue Ellen Smith, 17-year-old companion of four Mansfield reformatory fugitives who left a trail of stolen automobiles and abductions during a two-day spree two weeks ago, today was in her parents' custody.

Fairfield County Prosecutor W. C. Pickering announced in Lancaster the release of the girl pending investigation of her part in the $200 robbery and abduction of Joseph Stanko, Lancaster dry cleaner, the Associated Press reported.

The four youths, who escaped from the Grafton honor farm, face charges of armed robbery. One of the youths, James L. Vendor, 16, has been returned to the reformatory because of his age.

10-YEAR-OLD BOY DIES AT HIS HOME

Richard C Mastandrea, 10-year-old son of Mr and Mrs. Frank Mastandrea died Sunday night at the family home 368 Newman street, after an extended illness.

MELODY OF SERVICE CLASSIC LINGERS

SPORTS ROUND UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— In the pitch darkness that blanketed Philadelphia's Municipal stadium Saturday night, an hour or so after the finish of one of the most thrilling of all Army-Navy football games, a group of writers assembled for an informal farewell to Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard . . . It wasn't an occasion for personal goodbyes, just as a bunch of guys who met and realized they had seen for the last time two football players who, for three seasons, had played roles never equalled in football history. And tarnished by the narrow margin of victory it was a time for sober thought and regret . . .

* * *

LOOKING BACK

It all led back to a damp cheerless day at West Point in 1943 when Navy chalked up its fifth consecutive victory over Army in one of those drab wartime games you recalled that Davis, just a plebe, was there but he couldn't do much against Navy's greater power . . . Then you remember the next autumn when a big boy named Blanchard arrived to fill the fullback spot and Davis was shifted to a place that suited him better.

Game after game they kept rolling up scores as Coach Earl Blaik alternated his two teams that were virtually equal in strength . . . And you thought how they "piled it on" against a Notre Dame team that had been considered pretty good . . . And how Blanchard slammed big Don Whitmire early in the Navy game at Baltimore and Don left the game for good. . .

And you remembered the 1945 season with Army rolling up the scores against weak wartime opposition and how you never got tired of watching Doc and Junior and the rest because every play had that explosive quality that might result in a touchdown whether goal was 10 yards away or 80.

LAST LAP

This fall brought the question of whether Army could continue its winning streak now that the opposition was back at full strength and you wondered a little whether David and Blanchard really were the best pair of backs you ever had seen . . . You saw big Doc slip on the rainswept field and go down under a couple of Villanova players and limp off the field and you saw Davis carry on alone for a couple of games. You saw them checked but not beaten by Notre Dame—and you concluded there might have been better individual players — Red Grange, for instance or Bronko Nagurski or Homer Hazel—but there never was such a pair on one team, nor two athletes who ever had so completely dominated football for three years.

Next fall other stars, perhaps the Navy boys who played such a whale of a game Saturday, will be in headlines. And Lieutenant Blanchard and Lieutenant Davis will be cheering for other Army players . . . But as you left the stadium you felt sure you would never see two more like them.

Four Teams Rate at Top Of Grid Pile

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK — (INS) — The song of college football's regular season is ended today, but the melody of the superduper Army-Navy thriller lingers on.

The dying moments of the service classic at Philadelphia will be re-hashed for years to come in battlewagon wardrooms from Guantanamo to Pearl Harbor, with the gold braid insisting that it was a moral victory for navy even though the final score was Army 21, Navy 18.

Army's close call also has encouraged Notre Dame supporters to argue that the fighting Irish who beat Southern California Saturday 26 to 6, should be ranked ahead of the cadets for the mythical national championship, in view of the fact that a total of only 24 points was scored against Notre Dame all season. Outside of their scoreless deadlock, the records of both elevens are unblemished.

In this department's book, however, the two teams must be rated even-Stephen.

Third would be Georgia, unbeaten and untied. Charlie Trippi was at his best Saturday as the Bulldogs completed their first perfect season in 50 years by drubbing Georgia Tech, 35 to 7. They now will meet North Carolina in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans on New Year's day. The Tar-Heels rolled over Virginia, 49 to 14.

Fourth place lies between the two Rose Bowl nominees, U. C. L. A. and Illinois, the Uclans warmed up for this one by blanking Nebraska Saturday, 18 to 0.

Louisiana State gained a Cotton Bowl billing with Arkansas by trouncing Tulane, 35 to 7.

Rice and Tennessee, who will clash in the Orange Bowl at Miami, also went into action. Rice was impressive with a 38 to 6 triumph over Baylor, but Tennessee had a hard time staving off Vanderbilt, 7 to 6.

Three upsets occurred. Holy Cross knocked off Boston college, 13 to 6, Alabama tripped up Mississippi State, 24 to 7, and Auburn ran over Florida, 47 to 12.

Even more surprising was the 73 to 12 score which Oklahoma rolled up on the Oklahoma Aggies.

Southern Methodist beat Texas Christian, 30 to 13, North Carolina State defeated Maryland, 28 to 7, Oregon State vanquished Washington, 21 to 12, and Michigan State shaded Washington State, 26 to 20, in a corking intersectional clash.

Four Upsets Occur In Pro Loop Sunday

All Washington has to do to gain a National football league playoff berth is to beat the New York Giants twice on successive Sundays.

This state of affairs prevails as a result of two of four upsets which occurred Sunday.

The Giants muffed a chance to clinch the Eastern Division title when they were tripped up by the Los Angeles Rams, 31 to 21, before 47,366 at the Polo grounds.

A victory for the Giants would have given them a play-off berth because the second-place Redskins also were upset by Green Bay before 33,691 at Washington, 20 to 7. Ted Fritsch scored three touchdowns.

To win now, the Skins must beat the Giants twice in a row. They must defeat them in New York next Sunday to negotiate a tie, which would necessitate a playoff on Dec. 15. This would push the playoff with the Chicago Bears, western winners, for the league title, from the 15th to the 22nd.

The Rams beat the Giants thanks to the passing and kicking of Bob Waterfield, and the pass-receiving of Jim Benton, Waterfield completed 22 of 29 passes for 312 yards and three touchdowns, and scored seven points with his kicking. Benton caught 12 passes for 202 yards and two touchdowns.

The largest football crowd in Wrigley field history—47,511—saw the Chicago Cardinals upset the Bears, 35 to 28, on a pass by Paul Christman with 14 seconds to go.

A field goal by Augie Lio enabled the Philadelphia Eagles to beat the Pittsburgh Steelers, 10 to 7, before 29,000 fans.

In the All-America conference, the Los Angeles Dons ran hogwild in burying the Buffalo Bisons under a 62 to 14 count.

Barons, Bears Tied For Lead

The Cleveland Barons in the west and the Hershey Bears in the east wound up a weekend of American league hockey today firmly entrenched in their respective divisional leads.

Both pace setters maintained their torrid paces last night as the Bears edged the Caps, 3 to 2, at Indianapolis, and the Barons walked off with their fifth in a row, whipping the Flyers at St. Louis, 5 to 2.

The high-scoring Cleveland trio of Johnny Holota, center, and Bobby Carse and Pete Leswick, wingmen, again paved the way to victory. Holoto tallied once in the first period, Carse in the second and fiery Pete blasted in two goals in the final period.

Kramer and Schroeder Reach Double Finals

MELBOURNE, Australia—(AP)—Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder today reached the doubles semi-finals in the Victorian tennis championships by defeating Dinny Pails and Lionel Brodie of Australia, 6-2, 10-8 and 13-11 in a blistering match.

Baseball Big Wigs Gathering For Annual Winter Pow Wow

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Hundreds of baseball bigwigs moved in from all directions today, and this slightly football-dizzy town surrendered to exponents of the national pastime.

Leading off a full week of individual Major and Minor league sessions, officials of the American association, the Pacific Coast and Eastern leagues scheduled confabs behind closed doors to thrash out respective affairs today.

With minor organizations holding sway the first part of the week in this, the first time the majors and minors have ever held their annual winter pow-wow on the Pacific coast, attention centered on a successor to Judge William G. Bramham, who disclosed Saturday that he intends retiring as president of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues.

The minors' executive committee met privately last night, and while no official word was given out, it was reported that George M. Trautman, executive vice president of the Detroit Tigers, has the inside track as Bramham's successor. The judge wants to step down because of failing health. He's had the job since 1932.

Opposition to Trautman was anticipated, however, on the grounds that he is a big league man and an official of a club with extensive farm interests.

The major leagues take over the latter part of the week, with the big joint meeting set for Saturday. Slated to arrive today to preside was Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

Frank Lane, new president of the American association, sounded a harmonious note when he said he anticipated no controversy between the minor and major groups in reaching an agreement over the new major-minor operating agreement.

2 Games Open City A League

Two games tonight open the 1946-47 City A basketball league on the Senior high hardwood at 7:30.

Legion Post 72 collides with Mansfield Tire in the first cage game followed by the veteran Smokehouse five matching baskets against McCarrick's Gulf station. The AVC courtmen have drawn a bye for the first night of play.

Legion Post 72 and Smokehouse are in the first division while McCarrick's Gulf AVC and Mansfield Tire are in the second division.

Six other teams swing into action Wednesday night at 7, with Richland Beverage playing Barnes Manufacturing, Yunckers meeting Urschel Insurance squad and Komitos facing Ohio Sports Center.

Fabled Character Dies

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday for George E. Smith, 73, fabled character of the Cleveland racing field, who died suddenly yesterday at his suburban Lakewood home.

Fetes Slated For Shelby 11

SHELBY—Coach Al Fendrick's Shelby high school grid squad will be honored at two events during the coming week to end the round of programs and dinners scheduled for the Northern Ohio league champs.

The Whippets will be feted at a dinner to be sponsored by the players' fathers on Thursday night at the Union Grange hall near Taylortown. An informal program without lengthy speeches has been planned according to W. M. Hassler, who helped to organize this first Dad-Son banquet.

A city-wide grid rally honoring the champions is planned for Saturday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p. m. at the Shelby high school auditorium. The public is invited to the program which will feature the awarding of varsity letters to 24 Shelby Whippets and the presenting of monograms to reserve players. Coach Fendrick and Assistant Coach Joseph Yohn will award the letters.

Unbeaten Marcel Cordan Set For American Debut

NEW YORK—(INS)—The spice of international competition will be added to boxing at Madison Square Garden Friday when Marcel Cerdan of France meets Georgia Abrams, of Washington, D. C., in a ten-round bout.

Cerdan claims he never has been beaten in 96 bouts, although he lost a couple on fouls. Abrams, who served about four years in the navy, made a fair comeback last August by defeating Steve Belloise.

SHELBY AFTER FIRST WIN OVER MADISON

SHELBY—The Shelby Whippets will be seeking their first victory on the cage court when they travel to Mansfield Madison next Friday night, Dec. 6.

Coach Charles Williams' quintet dropped its opener to Fostoria, 29 to 26.

Mainstays of the Whippets' team are two six-footers, Dick Seitz and Dave Connelly, veterans from last year's squad that won 10 out of 17 games. Seitz palys center. Connelly is a forward. The third letterman from last season on the squad, Bill Lucas, plays the other forward post. Bill Thompson, Jim Reed or Jake Gates hold down the guard positions.

The squad was cut to 10 players by Coach Williams following the opening of the season. The other four players on the varsity squad are Stan Cronnenwett, Stan Jones, Richard Becker and Bill Keiser.

The reserve squad is entirely made up of sophomores and freshmen. Assistant coaches include Bill Wilkins, Larry Swackhamer, Joseph Yohn and Al Fendrick. Wilkins assists Williams with the varsity, Swackhamer and Yohn have charge of the reserves and Fendrick coaches the junior high candidates.

Games are being arranged for the other two groups besides the varsity.

The last league championship won on the hardwood by the Whippets was in the old North Central Ohio league during the 1939-30 season with former Coach Paul Curry in charge. Curry, who resigned in 1931 to accept a post at the Shelby Casualty Insuranse company, is serving his second term as a member of the board of education.

The Northern Ohio league season will get underway on Dec. 18 with Bucyrus playing here against the Whippets.

Again favored to take the league cage title this season is Norwalk, defending champion. Coach Grant Walls has almost the same team back this season that won the league basketball championship in 1945-46.

Madison opens its season tomorrow night, traveling to Mt. Vernon. The Rams dropped a 31 to 9 decision to Mt. Vernon last year and then went on to win 12 of 16 games during the remainder of the season.

Game and Pest Control Meets

Richland county game and pest control meets tonight in the Municipal courtrooms at 8, Harold Snyder, president, announced today.

Final plans for the first fox hunt at Little Washington, Saturday will be completed. All members are requested to attend and any hunters who are interested in this sectional hunt are invited.

Field marshall and captains of the four divisions of the hunt will be appointed and the field marshall for the chase will be announced.

Earlier this season it was voted that every two years, funds derived from bounties and pelts will be turned over to the areas where the fox were caught. The money will be presented to individuals representing these communities at a February banquet.

Hunters will not be permitted to kill any wild game during these chases.

Two Vacancies In Bowl Games

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Only two vacant spots remained today in the lineups for the larger football "bowl" games, as Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana State, Georgia Tech, and St. Mary's signed during the weekend for New Year's day play.

Still left to be filled are a place against San Jose State in the Raisin bowl at Fresno, Cal., and another against North Carolina State in the 'Gator bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Georgia and North Carolina will meet in the Sugar bowl at New Orleans, while Arkansas, co-champion with Rice of the Southwest conference, meets Louisiana State in the Cotton bowl. Rice will tangle with Tennessee in the Orange bowl, and Georgia Tech and St. Mary's are slated for the Oil bowl.

Cy Souders Named Most Valuable

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — End Cecil (Cy) Souders of Bucyrus today had been named by Ohio State football players as the most valuable player on the Buckeye squad.

The nomination made Souders eligible for selection as the most valuable player in the Western conference.

The title has been won in previous years by Wesley Fesler, Jack Graf, Leslie Horvath and Ollie Cline of Ohio State.

Single Stroke Wins For Todd

ORLANDO, Fla. — (U.P.) — One stroke was worth $600 today to Harry Todd of Dallas, Tex., who won the Orlando Jaycee Open golf tournament yesterday by that slim margin over runner-up Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C.

Coming from behind yesterday on the final circuit, Todd got a three-under-par 68 for a total of 275 for 72 holes to nip Palmer, who had led for two days of competition. The Texan received $2,000 as first prize while Palmer, an Army Air Force vet, drew $1,400.

Fred Haas, jr., of New Orleans, and Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., tied for third at 277 strokes while Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., took fourth with 278.

Bourbon Belle Wins

Directors Oppose Conservation Bill

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The board of directors of the League of Ohio Sportsmen went on record today as opposing in its present form a bill to be introduced in the state legislature next month to re-organize the state conservation department.

The bill would provide for an over-all conservation commission assuming control of forestry, soil, water, parks and wild life.

Following a meeting here, the board said it opposed the measure because it would create conflicting authority, cause confusion and result in "but little benefit to wild life restoration." The board said the bill gave no assurance that sportsmen would have any representation on the proposed new commission.

Sibbi Sisti Holds AA Batting Crown

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Sebastian "Sibbi" Sisti, star shortstop for the Indianapolis Indians, held the American association's batting crown for the 1946 season today with a gaudy .343 based on 203 hits in 592 trips to the plate.

Official figures compiled by the Howe News Bureau showed that Sisti led the league both in at-bats and total hits, besides knocking out the most triples, 14.

Minneapolis first baseman Johnny McCarthy took runner-up laurels in the hitting department with an average of .333 while Toledo's Jerry Witte, rookie of the year and most valuable player, took home run honors with 46 circuit blasts.

Draft League Cage Schedule

INDIANAPOLIS — (AP) — The new Mid-American college conference, comprised of Butler, Ohio, Cincinnati, Western Reserve and Wayne universities, yesterday drafted schedules for the 1947-48 basketball season at a meeting here.

The conference decided against an indoor track meet before 1948.

Dr. David Reese of Dayton, O., conference commissioner, said he would devise a method by which all-conference football, basketball and baseball teams will be chosen each year.

Coaches and sports writers in the member cities will make the selections, it was said. Certificates will be given the players chosen for the various teams.

Browns Shooting For Scoring Mark

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The Cleveland Browns clash with the Miami Seahawks in Florida tonight and they have a new record to shoot at—the 62-point score rolled up by the Los Angeles Dons in a 76-point game against Buffalo here yesterday in the All-America pro football conference.

The Browns, now the unchallenged champs of the western division and headed into a title battle with the New York Yankees, should have little trouble with Miami.

Last Minute Shot Wins For Rebels

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Thanks to a last minute shot by a substitute, Cleveland's Rebels had a firm grip on third place today in the Basketball Association of America.

Bob Faught, a guard who used to play for Notre Dame, hit the basket with only 58 seconds left to play last night and gave the Cleveland club a 49 to 47 victory over the Detroit Falcons.

Frank L. Kohler Leaves Job He Held 46 Years With Bakery Firm In City

By AL PREYER

A record of having sold to every retail grocer in Mansfield and surrounding towns for a radius of 30 miles, and never losing a customer in 46 years is claimed by Frank L. Kohler, 350 North Townview circle. At 64, he is retiring to rest on the laurels he has won as the Mansfielder longest employed by the National Biscuit company.

Born on a farm near Fleming's Falls, and a native of Richland county, Kohler looks back to 1900 when, at 18, he began to work as a salesman for the NBC, then only two years old itself.

"There were no paved roads in the state when I started," Kohler said. "Hitching posts were everywhere, and I travelled the county by horse and buggy. I would travel for five days, leave the team at some small Ohio town, and return to Mansfield for the weekend.

"Then I'd go back by train to pick up my team and continue my rounds. Every four weeks the team and I would wind up in Mansfield again.

"I have watched NBC grow from a one-package industry in 1900, when I sold the first box of packaged soda crackers, to the present line of about 175 different varieties of biscuits. Before 1900, you know, we just had the big cracker barrels.

"At the present time, to my knowledge, there are only two retail grocers still living who were in business when I started 46 ago; C. W. Landis of Ashland, and C. E. Bellville of New London," Kohler mused.

Asked about his after-work hobbies, Kohler said:

"I am retiring on a company pension and plan to take a trip through the west next year. I would like to spend the winters in Florida and the summers in California.

"Thinking back, I can truthfully say that it has always been a pleasure meeting new people every day. The retail grocer is a great servant for the average family. I have always valued his friendship."

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennett Cerf

The shortest drama review on record was turned in by the critic of a London gazette. The play was called "Dreadful Night." The critic's complete comment was "exactly."

Charles Frohman imported a light English drawing room comedy that had delighted London audiences for a solid year. New York, however, would have none of it. A week after the opening, the author cabled, "How is it going?" Frohman cabled back, "It's gone."

An aspiring playwright sent a script to J. M. Barrie for criticism. Barrie read it and wrote, "My dear Sir: I have glanced over your play. Oh, my dear Sir!"

Oscar Wilde saw the first night of one of his infrequent fiascos, and button-holed a critic on the way out. "I hope you noticed," he said, "that the play itself was a great success. It was the audience that was a failure."

Some book publishers trust each other almost as much as dress manufacturers. A group of them was gathered at luncheon at the Yale club the other day, and laughed uproariously at a timely witticism. A competitor sat nearby viewing them anxiously. "Only one thing can be that funny," he muttered to his companion. "I bet one of those so-and-so's has stolen my best author."

MRS. CHASE made the mistake of leaving the baby in her husband's care while she went into the library to pay the month's bills.

Mr. Chase buried himself behind his newspaper, and forgot all about the baby until he heard a series of thumps, followed by a horrendous wail. Clearly, the baby had fallen down the stairs. "Martha," called Mr. Chase excitedly. "Come quick! Junior just took his first forty-eight steps!"

NAVY RESERVE HEISER'S TOPIC

Mansfield ex-servicemen will hear an explanation of the part they can play in the Naval reserve program for Mansfield when Lt. Cmdr. A. E. Heiser addresses them in an open meeting Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the John Simpson auditorium.

Heiser will explain the formation of the Mansfield "ready reserve" unit which will call for 200 enlisted men with eight in the first pay grade, 12 in the second pay grade, 16 in the third, 20 in the fourth, and 144 in the fifth, sixth and seventh pay grades.

The navy's "volunteer reserve" plan will also be explained. This reserve will be trained on a come-when-you want-to basis and will receive no pay, according to Cmdr. Heiser.

Pleased at the reception given his appearance before naval reserve officers last week, Cmdr. Heiser said, "I only hope that we have as good a turnout of enlisted men, with the same enthusiasm, as we had of officers. Undoubtedly from this meeting will come the nucleus of the enlisted men for the 195th division as well as for the electronic warfare company and platoons that are to be organized."

PILES ARE NEVER MILD

DANGER IN NEGLECT

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Inventor Proposes to Build Castles In Air—Real Ones

By CLAIRE COX

CHICAGO — (U.P.) — Inventor Leonard Z. Plebanek today suggested a new solution for the housing shortage. He wants to build cities in the air.

Plebanek, president of an invention engineering firm and founder of the Inventors Club of Chicago, said an all-aluminum, helium-filled, jet-propelled city could be built in only a few years at a cost much lower than the cities now resting on the earth.

In 20 years as an engineer, he has invented a cookie-making machine, a peanut machine, a gadget that mends runs in women's stockings, permanent waving machines, juke boxes, photo-electric rifle games and precision tools.

Now he wants to go up in the air and take his neighbors with him.

His cities not only would be clean and airy, but they could fly south with the birds in the winter and hover over cool sections of the world in summer, he said.

"If residents of a city didn't like the government which rented them mooring space, they could secede and fly away to a better country," he said.

"I'm not just building castles in the air, either. It can be done."

Modest Beginning.

But Plebanek said he was willing to make a modest beginning on his housing-in-the-air project. He offered to start by building individual houses with a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour. He figures he could build two and a half room homes for $1,500 each —on an assembly-line basis.

The houses would be dirigible-shaped, with a gas compartment where the back porch should be and the pilot's seat on the "veranda." The living quarters would be in the front section, with heat supplied by conventional airplane-type heaters.

"There are all kinds of possibilities to this kind of house," Plebanek said. "It means people could see the world without ever leaving home."

Wives, for instance, could drive their husbands to work, hitch the house to the top of their office buildings and then spend the day shopping in the city. At night, they could propel their home to a secluded spot in the sky away from noisy neighbors.

"And on vacations, they could fly to a nice, quiet stream, moor the house to a tree and fish from the kitchen window," he added.

Plebanek suggested that as soon as he built enough houses, he could hitch them together, build aluminum, gas-filled street, office buildings and stores, and found new cities all over the atmosphere.

"A few years ago, I would have called such a project pure fiction," he said. "But today it's entirely possible."

HULL HEADS MASONS

BUCYRUS — Claude A. Hull has been named president of the Bucyrus Scottish Rite association. Hull succeeds C. J. Souders. Other new officers are Rollen Koons, vice-president, and Clifton Rorick, secretary-treasurer.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

Happy Jack Squirrel had made the longest jump of his life. Had he had time to think about it he wouldn't have thought he could do it. He wouldn't have dreamed of trying it. As it was, he had no time to think. Shadow the Weasel for his size one of the fiercest hunters in all the Great World, was right behind him, almost at his heels, in a tree in the Old Orchard. The distance to the nearest branch of the next tree was greater than he had ever dreamed of jumping. He had to make that jump or probably lose his life, and he knew it. So he made the jump. More often than not what has to be done can be done, and he who dares does it.

As he caught hold of the twigs of the branch of that other tree and pulled himself up on it Happy Jack knew that for the time being he was safe. Confidence returned to replace a feeling that had been very close to despair and hopelessness. Nothing restores or creates confidence like success. Happy Jack ran and jumped from limb to limb to the farther side of that tree and from this across to the next tree, a much shorter distance than he had to jump before. From here on he could travel by way of the trees without having to go down to the ground, and he knew that some of the jumps from tree to tree were longer than Shadow the Weasel could make just as was that first one. He doubted that Shadow would even try to follow him.

Shadow didn't. He is not one to waste his time in trying to do what he knows it is doubtful that he can do. When he knows that he can do a thing no one can be more persistent than he. So when Happy Jack made that first long jump Shadow promptly lost all interest in him. He turned back to the trunk of the tree and started down this.

Now this was a big old tree, for the Old Orchard had its beginning before apple trees were pruned back to keep them from growing too big for easy picking of the fruit, as is done these days. When he reached the trunk he stopped to look up. A little above was a hole such as Yellow Wing the Flicker might have made years before. Long ago Shadow had learned that holes may be well worth looking into. Often they are empty, but many times they are not. To Shadow any hole anywhere is possible opportunity, and opportunity is never to be lightly passed.

He didn't hesitate now, but climbed quickly. Sometimes Shadow is called the Fearless One. This is because he seems not to know what real fear is. So he is never afraid to boldly look into or enter a hole that interests him. Seldom is any one who can harm him in one.

As he drew near this hole he heard the sound of claws on wood coming from inside. His eyes gleamed. Some one was in there, probably living there. It might be another Squirrel, perhaps Timmy the Flying Squirrel. Perhaps Whitefoot the Wood Mouse was living there. Or it might be any one of several feathered folks who use hollows in trees.

He reached that round doorway intending to enter at once. He didn't. He didn't enter at all. Instead he stopped abruptly with an angry snarl. He moved a little to one side and glared up at a round feathered face that nearly filled that doorway. A pair of round yellow eyes glared at him with anger equal to his own. A hooked bill snapped with a sound that somehow was as threatening as his own snarls. It was Spooky the Screech Owl. He had heard the claws of Shadow on the tree and had come to his doorway to see who was so bold as to climb up to it.

As you know, Spooky the Screech Owl is one of the small members of the Owl family, but, like all members of his family, he has a sharp hooked bill and sharp, strong hooked claws. Shadow knew this. He knew that while he might be able to kill Spooky the latter might kill him instead. Spooky knew this too. So there was mutual respect, each unwilling to take a chance. For a few minutes Shadow snarled and spit and Spooky hissed and snapped his bill. Then Shadow turned and ran down the tree. He had lost all interest in that hole.

OHIOAN SOLVES TRICKY PUZZLE FOR AVIATORS

Invention Guides Planes to Landing Sites.

MIDDLETOWN — (AP) — A former gas engineer turned inventor apparently has a solution for one of aviation's trickiest problems—landing in limited space or over obstructions.

Earl E. Flint of Middletown, a 39-year-old Ohioan whose low altitude bombsight helped turn the Bismarck sea battle into a smashing Japanese defeat, has come up with an adaptation of that device which he says will tell pilots the exact point at which to begin a landing glide, regardless of altitude.

Actually, the pilot "bombs" his plane into the proper landing spot.

"I am enthusiastic about this new instrument," Lou Wehrung, chief test pilot for Aeronca Aircraft corporation, declared after exhaustive tests. "It is so accurate a pilot can land on the exact spot he selects while still hundreds of feet in the air.

"Inexperienced pilots will find the instrument so simple they will be able to adjust it in 30 seconds. In event of a dead motor, the pilot will know long before he reaches a prospective landing space whether he will be able to maintain altitude enough to land there."

The landing procedure is just like following the bouncing ball at one of those movie singfests. An orange dot, projected by optical and electrical means from the compact little instrument, appears to be racing along the ground. When the racing dot reaches the desired landing point, the pilot cuts his motor and begins his landing glide.

A few minutes later, the plane wheels touch the spot where the orange dot had rested at the moment the glide began.

"There are only three factors which influence the landing of an airplane," explained Flint. "They are wind velocity, glide speed and the weight of the airplane.

"The landing instrument really is only doing a simple problem. I'm surprised no one has thought of it before."

If the problem is easy, the setting of the compact little mechanism is even easier. The pilot merely twists a dial to his glide speed, usually 60 to 65 miles an hour with light planes. He turns another little knob either to "pilot," if the light plane is unoccupied except for the pilot, or to "passenger," if the plane is loaded with two persons.

Finally, the pilot sets a third dial for the estimated wind velocity, either from personal judgment or from information furnished by the landing tower, and flips on a small toggle switch.

As calibrated for a light private plane, the instrument weighs a little more than two pounds. If the plane has no battery—six volts is all that is needed to operate the gadget—then the complete installation will weigh about five pounds.

This tiny device may be mounted on a swinging arm, similar to that which attaches a sunshade or visor to an automobile, or it can be set in the plane's instrument panel ready to pop out at the push of a button.

Although the current model, just about ready for production, is calibrated for light planes, Flint says that with slight changes, a plane of almost any weight could be landed by the instrument.

89-Year-Old Ex-Railroader Dies In Galion

GALION — Francis M. Umbarger, 89, of 407 Grove avenue, died at Galion City hospital yesterday after a lingering illness. He had been a patient at the hospital for the past seven days, but had been in failing health since February.

A native of Richland county, he was born Jan. 22, 1857, the son of Leonard and Elizabeth Haflich Umbarger. He was married to Sarah Ann Miller, who died in 1937.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Fern Cotton of Galion, one grandson, Francis Cotton of Galion, and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Umbarger was a conductor on the Erie Railroad for 35 years, retiring in 1913.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Volk funeral home, where friends may call. Rev. N. R. Somerville, pastor of First Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

THOMAS J. LASER

SHELBY — Thomas Jefferson Laser, 87, retired Richland county farmer, died unexpectedly at 8:30 a. m. Sunday at his home.

Born in Cass township, Laser had lived here since 1919. He was a member of the Evangelical and Reformed church and Knights of Pythias lodge.

One foster daughter, Mrs. Harry Brown of Shelby, with whom he had made his home in recent years, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Baker of Shenandoah, survive.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Shenandoah Christian church, in charge of Rev. Harlan J. Miller, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be at the nearby Ganges cemetery.

CHARLES W. COLLISON

GALION—Charles Wilbur Collison, 83, of 617 South Market street, died in City hospital Sunday at 3 p. m. after a month's illness.

Mr. Collison was born in Coshocton county. He had been employed by the Freese Foundry here, retiring in 1936. He was a member of the First Methodist church and the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Clendon Traucht and Mrs. Maybel Meek, both of Galion; one son, Ernest, of Akron; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. His wife, Sarah Mowry Collison, died in 1935.

The body is at the Volk funeral home where services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. with burial in Fairview cemetery. Rev. N. R. Somerville will officiate.

JOHN D. TOHLMAN

MT. GILEAD—John D. Tohlman, 71, died of a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday night at the home of his son, John, jr, at Carlington.

Born in Michigan, Mr. Tohlman had spent most of his life in Spokane, Wash., where he was a stock and bond broker. He moved to the home of his son, one and a half years ago. He was a member of the Elks, and the Spokane City club.

Survivors include the son at whose home he died and two grandchildren; also three brothers in Washington state and two sisters in California

The body will be taken to Spokane where services will be held Saturday with burial in Fairmont cemetery.

JOSEPH M. LINDER

MT. GILED—A heart attack caused the death Saturday night of Joseph Melville Linder, 84, at his home one mile west of Denmark in Morrow county.

Mr. Linder was born in Morrow county and was a life-long resident here. Surviving are his wife, Anna Hinds Linder; two sons, Leroy of Cardington and Walter H. of Marion; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Stella Gruber and Miss Alberta Linder both of Edison, and a step-sister, Miss Etta Clutter of Marion.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the residence and at 2:30 p. m. at the Denmark church, with burial in the Claridon cemetery. Rev. Orland Ruby will officiate.

MRS. JOSIE UNDERWOOD

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Josie Underwood, 54, died at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at her home three miles west of Cardington of a heart ailment.

Born in Belmont county, Mrs. Underwood was a member of the Christian church at Chestnut Level.

She leaves her husband, Oliver Underwood; one son, John of Tennessee; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Warren, of Cambridge, and Mrs. Donald White, of Marion; six grandchildren; six brothers, William and Edward Calvert of Marion; James, Harvey and Thomas of Columbus, and Ross, of Chesterville, and two sisters, Mrs. Brown of Marion, and Mrs. Albert Stevens of Henrysville.

Services will be held at the home Tuesday at 2 p. m. with burial in Marion cemetery. Rev. Howard Hammer will officiate.

MRS. HERMA GIBBS

MT. GILEAD—Funeral services for Mrs. Herma Ethel Gibbs, 66, who died Friday at Marion City hospital following a two-week illness were arranged for today at 2 p. m. in the Craven funeral home with Rev. W. W. Lovelens officiating. She was born in Morrow county on Jan. 20, 1880.

Surviving are her husband, Carl Gibbs, of Mt. Gilead; two daughters, Mrs. Roy Benson, of Mt. Gilead and Mrs. Thomas Owen, of Ferndale, Mich.; four sisters, Mrs. Jessie Watkins and Mrs. Raleigh Ashbrook, both of Mt. Gilead; Mrs. Clem App, of Edison, and Mrs. Ora Folk, of Sycamore.

Also four brothers, Tom Rinehart and Floyd Rinehart, both of Mt. Gilead; Warner Rinehart, of Upper Sandusky, and Will Rinehart, of Oakland, Calif., three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Craven funeral home, with Rev. W. W. Lovelens, pastor of the Nazarene church, officiating. Burial will be in Rivercliff cemetery.

EMERSON JOHNSON

WILLARD — Funeral services for Emerson Johnson, 74, who died Friday at Bradenton, Fla., will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Fink funeral home with Rev. H. J. Herion of Willard and Rev. P. J. Garcia of Norwalk officiating.

Born in Sherwood, Mr. Johnson had lived in Willard since a young man. He was a retired B. and O. railroad conductor and a Mason. He had gone to Florida for the winter.

WILLARD FACES INDUSTRIAL CUT IN COAL CRISIS

Baltimore and Ohio Reports One Month's Supply.

By MRS. HARRISON WOLFE
(N-J State Correspondent)

WILLARD—This small city, 95 per cent of whose workers are employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, was told today by B. & O. officials that the railroad has approximately 30 days' coal supply.

At the same time city officers reported an 18 to 20 day fuel supply for the city plant, and enough coal to heat the city hall for 10 days.

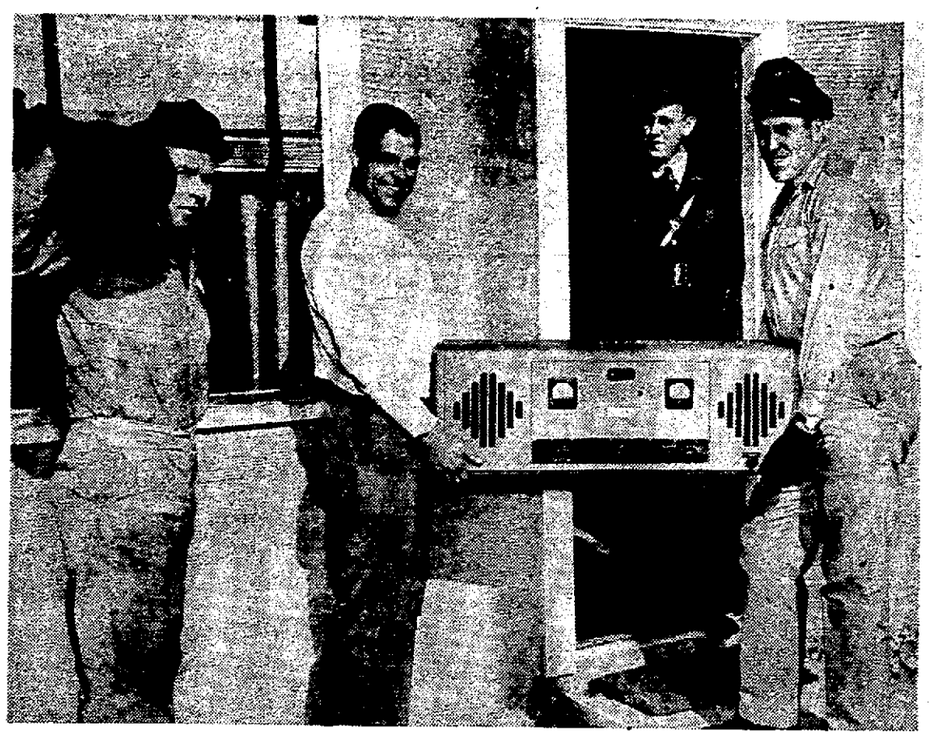
The Pioneer Rubber company, the community's only other major industry, said it had a stockpile of three to four weeks.

Willard city hospital possesses a 30-day coal supply, the survey disclosed.

Schools and churches reported an "adequate" supply of fuel to withstand an emergency of several months' duration.

Roy A. Snook, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association, said he had been conferring with representatives of an outside concern for Christmas decorations for the business section which would not violate the brownout order.

With the belated arrival of cold weather, fuel consumption in homes rose rapidly, and some homeowners faced the prospect of inadequately heated residences by Christmas.



MOVING DAY was observed at the Mansfield state highway patrol station Friday for the second time in less than two months as officers rolled up their sleeves for the job. The new patrol office building, built to the specifications of the officers' needs, is located 100 yards from the George Satterlee home on Ashland road, where the patrol set up temporary quarters on Oct. 1. Shown taking the two-way police radio set into the new quarters, are, Patrolmen R. H. Opp, A. E. Hartman, A. T. Phillips and C. L. Taylor. The station is located approximately two and a half miles northwest of the city.—(News-Journal staff photo)

HOLMES A. R. C. BOARD TO MEET

MILLERSBURG — Robert C. Harrison, general field representative of the American Red Cross, will be guest speaker at the annual Holmes County Red Cross board meeting at the Methodist church at 7 p. m. Friday.

All Red Cross members are eligible to attend the dinner meeting, for which reservations now are being made, Miss Edythe Low, Holmes county secretary, announced today.

Officers for the coming year will be elected, and Red Cross pictures will be shown, Miss Low said.

Crestline Songfest Slated for Dec. 15

CRESTLINE — Plans for the Christmas Community sing, which will be held in the high school auditorium on Dec. 15 at 7:30 p. m., were discussed at last week's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club.

Dr. Ernest Hesser will lead the sing, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Residents of Crestline and surrounding communities are invited.

TOURNAMENT SET

SHELBY — The Knights of Pythias and Junior Order pool tournament will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Junior Order hall.

Galion Forms Airport Concern; Albert N. Cox Named President

GALION—Albert N. Cox, of Galion, has been elected president of the Galion-Crestline Airport corporation, it was announced today.

Other officers named at an organizational meeting Friday were John Berger, of Crestline, vice president, and George C. McClure, of Galion, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Arthur D. Schreck, E. Victor Smith, Russell M. Gledhill, Cox and McClure, all of Galion, and R. W. Lesseuer and Berger, of Crestline.

The officers and directors will serve until the annual meeting, slated for the first Tuesday of April.

Rules for operating the 85-acre field at the Fairway, east of Galion on U. S. Route 30-S, will be established by the board of directors.

The airport project started in February, 1945, when Paul E. Nollen called a meeting of civic leaders to draft a program of community developments.

The corporation was organized with a capital of $25,000. Work on the runways is expected to start in the near future.

'House of Magic' To Visit Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Now entering its 14th season, the "House of Magic" of New York World Fair fame, will visit Bucyrus Dec. 9. Employes of the Bucyrus General Electric plant are sponsoring the entertainment.

The show will be seen in two appearances at the high school auditorium, an afternoon matinee at 1:30 and an evening program at 8 o'clock.

Fetzer Is Named County Chairman

ASHLAND — Donald Fetzer, Ashland attorney, has been appointed Ashland county chairman of the American Cancer society, Mrs. Marguerite G. Tremaine, state commander of the society, announced yesterday. Fetzer succeeds Miss Doris Stout, former dean of women at Ashland college.

Ohio Seamless Co. Declares Dividend

SHELBY—A fourth quarter dividend of $1.80 on common stock has been declared by the Ohio Seamless Tube company for stockholders on record as of Dec. 5.

The fourth-quarter dividend will bring the total for the year to $3.50 as compared to $1.60 for 1945.

A 43¾ cents a share dividend was declared on $1.75 prior preference stock on record of Dec. 10.

KIENTZ CHOSEN TO DIRECT DRIVE

MT. GILEAD—John Kientz of Cardington has been named chairman of the Morrow county drive for funds for the USO. The United Service Organization is asking for $2,500 from Morrow county this year.

Carl Beebe, Mt. Gilead postmaster, will serve the remainder of the year as president of the Mt. Gilead Kiwanis club. Beebe, vice president of the club, took over when the former president, Cloyce Messenger, moved to Ashland.

Dwight Leas, former superintendent of schools at Delaware and leader of the state Shrine band, will speak to members of the Men's Brotherhood of the Trinity Methodist church at their November meeting at 8 p. m. today. Justin Early is chairman of the program committee.

Ashland Sheriff Opens Clampdown

ASHLAND — Sheriff Herbert R. Myers has announced a special campaign by his department to clamp down on traffic violations by motorists who pass school busses while they are receiving or discharging pupils.

Three offenders were fined in justice court here soon after the sheriff started his drive.

Help Kidneys If Back Aches

Do you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Backache, Nervousness, Leg Pains, Dizziness, Swollen Ankles, Rheumatic Pains, Bladder Weakness, Painful Passages, or feel old and run-down, due to non-organic and non-systemic Kidney and Bladder troubles? If so, here is good news: The very first dose of Cystex (a physician's prescription) usually goes right to work helping the Kidneys flush out excess acids and wastes which may have caused your trouble. To prove what Cystex may do to bring you joyous help from the pains and distress due to above mentioned Kidney and Bladder troubles, get Cystex from your druggist and give it a fair trial exactly according to the simple directions. Unless completely satisfied and delighted with your rapid improvement, your money back is guaranteed. So don't suffer another day without trying Cystex.

Auxiliary to Hold Christmas Party

CRESTLINE — The annual Christmas party and exchange of gifts of the American Legion auxiliary will be held at the Legion home Monday evening, Mrs. M. V. Snyder, auxiliary president, announced yesterday.

Mrs. G. H. Miner, of Medina, district president, will preside at an initiation ceremony at the regular meeting Dec. 16, Mrs. Snyder said.

MEETS AT CHURCH

SHELBY — Mrs. Ray Mackey will be the leader when the Women's Missionary association of the Evangelical United Brethren church meets tonight in the parlors of the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Heck, Mrs. Walter Waddington, Mrs. Howard Hart and Mrs. French.

HOW IT
Works While Child Sleeps

To Ease Distress of Colds During the Night

PENETRATES into upper bronchial tubes with special soothing medicinal vapors.

STIMULATES chest and back surfaces like a warming, comforting poultice.

As soon as you rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work instantly to ease miseries of colds. It invites sleep and works for hours during the night to relieve distress. Often by morning most misery of the cold is gone. Only VapoRub gives this special penetrating-stimulating action. Try it! VICKS VAPORUB

ADDITION PLANNED

ASHLAND — Faultless Rubber company has been issued a building permit for construction of a $3,000 addition to its factory here. The addition, a quonset hut, will be constructed after approval by the State Department of Industrial Relations and the Civilian Production administration.

Shelby Scout Court To Meet

SHELBY—Shelby and Plymouth Boy Scouts will receive advancement or merit badge awards when the Shelby district court of honor is held at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the First Methodist church.

The scouts were approved for the awards by the district board of review. Gerald Dennis, court chairman, will preside.

ALL-DAY MEET SLATED

SHELBY — An all-day meeting of the Busy Bee club will be held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Rolland Mickey. A covered dish dinner will be presented at noon. During the day there will be a gift exchange and a Christmas party.

WILLARD BAZAAR PLANNED

WILLARD—A "white elephant" bazaar will be held in the Central school gymnasium here next Wednesday, it was announced today. Proceeds from the bazaar, sponsored by teachers of the two Central schools, will be used to purchase a moving picture projector.

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, December 3.

THE PLANETARY aspects, stimulated by benefic rays from solar sources, encourage the inauguration of plans and policies of major importance and deep significance. There are undercurrents indicating the prospect of subtle, intriguing and strategic operations rather than open and above board procedures. Those in high place and influence, possibly in political, diplomatic or community power, may be approached with confidence for suggestions and substantial support, but use finesse, graciousness, and tact.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare plans and objectives for development, with the aid and encouragement of those in place or authority, in any sort of public influence but where strings may be more successfully pulled from under-cover sources. Strategem, intrigue and tacit understandings may go farther and reach deeper than open and above board tactics. Secrecy, diplomacy and "inspired" gestures go far, with intuitions and hunches of importance. On higher planes creative urges are strong.

A child born on this day will have splendid talents of a creative or inspirational nature. It may gain its ends by subtlety, craft or strategem rather than direct approach.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Shelby Church Groups Plan Busy Schedule For December

SHELBY — Regular meetings and special programs for the First Lutheran church members and their organizations today had been announced by the pastor, Rev. D. Bruce Young.

The monthly meeting of the Anspach Missionary society of the Lutheran church will be held tonight at the home of Mrs. Frank Will, 25 West Gaylorn avenue. A dinner will be featured at 6:30 p. m.

The Dorcas class of the Lutheran church will hold its regular meeting tonight at the church. A pot-luck supper will be featured. Mrs. Homer Robinson and her committee are in charge of the affair.

"Thy Message at Christmas" will be the topic for discussion when the Catherine Cumberworth Missionary society meets in the parlors of the Lutheran church Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Homer Robinson and Mrs. B. H. Moffatt will be the topic leaders.

The Christmas party for the Ruth Gleaners class will be held Wednesday with a pot-luck supper in the basement of the church at 6 p. m. A 25-cent grab bag will be featured. Mrs. Carl Glaes will be hostess and Mrs. H. Davis, Mrs. J. White, Mrs. Russel Christian and Mrs. Charles Armold will assit her.

The Luther league will unite with the Plymouth church for a meeting next Sunday evening in Plymouth. A supper will be served at 6 p. m. by the Plymouth league.

The annual Christmas cantata will be presented by the Young Peoples' chorus Dec. 22 in the morning and the Senior chorus at 4 p. m. the same day.

Other meetings scheduled for the area include the regular meeting of the Consistory of the Evangelical and Reformed church at the home of the president, W. M. Hassler, 58 Mansfield avenue, at 8:30 p. m. today.

A special Deacons' board meeting will be held at the First Baptist church on Friday at 7:30 p. m. The Children's Bible class of the church will meet at 28 Grove avenue.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus"—but there is also a John L. Lewis.

It sometimes seems that more was accomplished in the old days before everything was "expedited."

The motorist who thinks about getting antifreeze after the radiator is cracked is probably a grandson of the farmer who locked the barn after the horse was stolen.

Cold Wave Helps Lewis' Rebellion

ABRUPT arrival of near-zero temperature in many parts of the country appears to play nicely into the hands of John L. Lewis if his purpose is to impose sufficient suffering on the American people to compel them to surrender on his own terms.

Industry and transportation have already been seriously crippled as a result of the dwindling soft coal supply, and conservation measures are in effect in schools, public institutions and business places, but a sufficiency of home heating must now be regarded as the primary objective.

Home heating, in many instances, involves not only comfort but health, and in an extreme of emergency it should be made possible for homes to be heated, so that people could gather there in comfort, share scant food supplies, and wait while the slow processes of court proceedings and governmental action seek some means of gaining relief from the ridiculous situation in which "the greatest nation on earth" finds itself as a result of the dictatorial action of one man.

If, as now seems not unlikely, a wave of deaths from pneumonia, and other forms of illness due of insufficiency of fuel, follows in the wake of the miners' strike the charge against Lewis would appear to be much more serious than contempt of court.

Shortage In Street Parking Space

THIS is the week during which Christmas buying will start in earnest, with promise that the coming week-end will mark a new high in the number of shoppers and buyers from city and vicinity who will be attracted to Mansfield's progressive and well-stocked stores.

Last Friday and Saturday provided an example of the shortage of parking space on Mansfield's downtown streets and emphasized the advantage of either finding space in a parking lot or using bus transportation in getting to and from home.

Mansfield has become the logical trading center of a steadily increasing area and visitors should be shown every possible courtesy in the matter of providing parking space, many of them not being so well acquainted with streets and traffic regulations as are local residents.

Voluntary action by business men and store and office employes to avoid all-day occupancy of street parking places, especially during the holiday rush, would be helpful in opening more convenient spaces for shoppers to park while visiting stores. There are not enough parking places in Mansfield's business sections to accommodate all the motorists who look around for a place to leave their car on a busy afternoon.

Few War Toys Shown This Year

WAR TOYS are out of favor for Christmas 1946. The children don't seem to want them. Instead of tanks, guns, and torpedo boats, they prefer scooters and tricycles of aluminum, games, trucks, trailers and railroad cars. Miniature American Indians, too, are going to be popular again.

A British toy manufacturer is in this country with samples of toys produced in his one-time munitions factory at Bristol. After the first toys were made in the reconverted factory, he invited the children of the factory personnel to a party. Displaying the various toys, the factory people soon learned which appealed to children, and adjusted their program accordingly.

Toy manufacturers in this country believe American children also are weary of war toys. This can be viewed only as a most encouraging trend toward peace. It is to be hoped that adults, who often, it must be admitted, pick toys more from their own interest than that of the child recipient, can be induced to follow child preferences, and give peacetime toys this Christmas.

Another Unknown Prizewinner

THE NOBEL prize for literature has once more gone to a writer almost totally unknown to Americans. Hermann Hesse, a Swiss novelist, essayist and poet, has received the award. Though three or four of his books have been translated into English, he has not begun to make the impression that was made by another German-writing novelist and Nobel prizewinner, Thomas Mann.

The prize has often gone to internationally famous writers like W. B. Yeats, Rabindranath Tagore, Luigi Pirandello, Knut Hamsun and Eugene O'Neill. Other awards have gone to authors who even after the honor brought them to attention, remained unnoticed. Among these might be mentioned Eemil Sillanpaa of Finland, the 1939 winner, Erik A. Karlfeldt of Sweden and Grazia Deledda of Italy.

The explanation, at least in part, is that this is not a prize for literary eminence, but rather for idealism in literature. Lack of this inspirational quality may explain omission of writers like Hemingway and Dreiser.

Moscow reluctantly admits that there are some "shysters" among Soviet lawyers—and the percentage figures are being awaited before making any comparison of conditions.

Word drifts through that Republicans in some newly reconquered areas are rehearsing for a new play entitled "The Postmaster Goeth."

OPA food rationing is now confined to sugar and rice—and in this area the shortage of rice has scarcely been noticed.

If you want to get the real "low-down" on a person, listen to him when he is in the talkative stage of intoxication.

HOW ABOUT NEXT YEAR'S CROP?

Coal-Using Industries Called Upon By Lewis To Help Gain His Point

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Here is a blow-by-blow picture of how John L. Lewis has been frantically working behind the scenes to effect a settlement of the coal strike.

Both government and industry are split wide open on how to handle Lewis. John L., being a union dictator, has been able to play divide-and-conquer all over the lot. His steady war of nerves against both the administration and the operators is now beginning to bear fruit.

Immediately after it became certain the strike was coming on, John L. called Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland banker, and asked him to come to Washington to help end the strike.

Lewis next contacted Harry Moses, head of the Henry C. Frick Coal company and boss of U. S. Steel's coal operations. Moses drove all night from Pittsburgh in order to be on deck in Washington next day for a four-hour session with Lewis.

Lewis complained to Eaton at their first secret meeting that he was unable to contact anybody inside the government to negotiate a deal, so Eaton became his liaison man.

Eaton, whose Chesapeake and Ohio railroad has a vital interest in coal and who has successfully influenced power politics, immediately got busy. Lewis told Eaton he was willing to make a deal, but that he wanted to force the government to postpone its legal injunction and contempt proceedings against him.

Lewis also held two secret meetings with U. S. Steel's Moses, who operates more captive coal mines than anyone else in the world. At the first, he proposed that the captive mines sign an agreement with the U. M. W. which would keep the steel mills going. This would also have kept 50,000 miners on the job and would have provided an open wedge for further negotiations with the entire coal industry. Big steel traditionally sets the wage and price patterns for all coal.

U. S. Steel Says No.

Moses took this up with top U. S. Steel officials in New York and, two days later, again met with Lewis secretly. The answer was that both U. S. Steel and Wall Street were split wide open on any possible deal. Benjamin Fairless, the corporation's president, was in favor of the Lewis proposal, but Irving Olds, chairman of U. S. Steel, opposed any separate deal with the miners.

Meanwhile, Lewis kept contacting other big operators. Some of his contacts were through his U. M. W. subordinates—Tom Kennedy, Percy Tetlow, and John T. Jones.

Simultaneously, Cyrus Eaton, working from Suite 416 of the Carlton hotel here (Cordell Hull's old apartment), talked to Reconversion Director John Steelman via the White House private phone line to Florida. Eaton also called White House Court Jester George Allen, a director of Republic Steel, who was in New York. He made the same proposition to each of them—namely, that Lewis would settle with the operators if the government would quash its legal proceedings.

Steelman and Allen consulted privately by phone, then called Eaton back, told him they thought they could sell this line to President Truman, provided Lewis signed a contract guaranteeing uninterrupted coal production until the spring of 1948.

Truman wanted a guarantee of 18 uninterrupted months of coal production, but Lewis flatly turned thumbs down on this proposal. He boomed the answer over the telephone. However, Eaton made Lewis agree that this was a wedge in the government's thinking and the basis for negotiation.

Willing to Postpone.

Meanwhile the government even gave Lewis an unnoticed tip-off that it might be willing to compromise the court proceedings when Lewis showed up before Judge Goldsborough last Monday. Assistant Attorney General John Sonnett, handling the government's case, told the court the government would not object to a postponement of the legal cases against Lewis if the miners went back to work.

This was Lewis' cue to go back into frantic, private negotiations with the operators to swing a new contract.

This finagling was done largely behind the back of Secretary of the Interior Krug, the man who is supposed to be in charge of coal for the government. This highlights the secret backing and filling of government officials regarding Lewis ever since the coal strike even threatened.

At one time, Attorney General Tom Clark refused to prosecute Lewis at Krug's request and for some days a bitter argument raged between the justice and interior departments over legal proceedings.

On one occasion, a three-hour argument raged back and forth between the attorney general and Warner Gardner, assistant secretary of the interior, over legal strategy, with all kinds of names turning the atmosphere of Clark's office blue.

Interior department officials privately charge Attorney General Clark with being too much impressed with the legal ability of Lewis's chief lawyer, Welly K. Hopkins, who went to school with Clark in Texas and who once was associated with Clark in the justice department. They also say Hopkins for a time had hypnotized Clark, and that was why the attorney general was loath to prosecute.

However, President Truman has been strongly behind Secretary Krug and believes that there must be a showdown with John L. Lewis. At one cabinet conference, both Reconversion Director Steelman and the attorney general took a position against Krug, but Truman emphatically supported the latter.

Krug has also had some fiery sessions with Lewis personally, which haven't leaked out to the press.

His last session was shortly before the strike, at which the secretary of the interior tried to persuade the beetle-browed boss of the miners to agree to a 60-day strike truce, while the miners negotiated direct with the operators. Lewis, however, refused. Blowing his top in rage, he charged Krug with holding secret meetings with the operators without his knowledge.

Today, of course, Lewis is doing just exactly what he then refused to do—namely, holding frantic, backstage talks with the operators whom he previously spurned.

At this earlier conference, however, Krug handed Lewis a written memorandum for a proposed strike truce, whereupon the miners' boss angrily stalked out of the meeting.

Krug had earlier persuaded Charles O'Neill, head of the northern coal operators, to agree to negotiate direct with Lewis, upon which the government would turn back the mines to private operation.

In the last week, Lewis has had his emissaries get in touch with O'Neill and now, with a possible fine and jail sentence over his head, Lewis is finally talking things over backstage.

Assignment: America

Miners Refuse to Be Told How to Vote.

CABIN CREEK, W. Va.—If you're having nervous nightmares nowadays about the one-man dictatorships of certain labor unions (Aw, quit raising your eyebrows; you know who I mean), then gather 'round and listen to the story of Cabin Creek and the senator.

There's something mighty comforting about it all.

Now Cabin Creek lies about a ten-dollar taxi toss southeast of Charleston, W. Va., and is something of an historic spot, as labor unions go.

It's a rambling, twisting, curving, corkscrewing, smoky valley which ambles every which way from Sunday for about 20 miles or so. It is peopled by English, Scotch, Negro, Irish, Polish, Italian, Hebrew, Slovak, German, Dutch, Scandinavian and other assorted Americans who have one major point in common.

They are coal miners and union members.

Cabin Creek, as a place, has been pretty pro-union for some time. It became world-famous back in 1921, because of its "armed march" when the striking union boys undertook to hike over the hills and organize some of the non-union miners on the other side.

Big Bill Blizzard, now district United Mine Workers boss whose underlip still sticks out when angry like the forehead foliage of Mister Eyebrows himself, was temporarily parked in the pokey until cleared of the third treason charge in the nation's history at that time—and Cabin Creek became somewhat notorious.

As far as following the union on labor policy is concerned, Cabin Creek's currently idle citizenry remains of a single mind today. In this mix-up between John L. Lewis and the government, they'll follow Lewis with the zeal of religious fanatics.

You take a short, sawed-off character like Charlie Curnutte, for instance, with 61 years of wisdom written on his gnome-like face. Charlie of the iron-grey shock of hair is a hand-loader down in what the novelists refer to as "the bowels of the earth."

Charlie has been a coal miner for 45 years—since 1901. In 1902, he joined the union. He got fired for so doing, but he stuck with the union. He's been sticking ever since.

Today, if the union says, "boys, we're waiting on a contract," Charlie will wait until there's frost on the window of hades . .

So will guys like Byron Muncy, 28-year-old tipple-man, who has a wife and two kids, and unmarried 26-year-old Clarence (Moon) Howell, mine motorman.

So, as a matter of fact, will every miner I talked to in two days of wandering up and down the creek. If Lewis says no contract, then they say no work, and that's that.

All in all, it is doubtful if you can find a place in America more sold on its union, and on Lewis as its labor boss, than Cabin Creek—so it might seem that maybe they are misled victims of a one-man dictatorship.

Which is where the senator comes in . . .

Recently, as you may have heard, there was an election in which the Democrats took quite a kicking-around. Running for re-election to the U. S. senate was Harley M. Kilgore, who, in addition to being a Democrat, unhappily incurred the enmity of John L. Lewis.

So Big John belligerently barked his orders down the line.

Unofficially at first, but then quite definitely, it became union policy, and the orders came down the grapevine to Cabin Creek's solid union citizenry:

"Beat Kilgore!"

So came election day and Cabin Creek citizens voted almost solidly—for Kilgore . . .

In fact, they elected him, for the congressman's margin of victory in all of West Virginia was less than 3,000 votes. Cabin Creek alone gave him a majority of more than 3,000 votes!

The miners will back Lewis to the limit in mine matters, but will vote according to their own wishes.

Timely Editorial

Rescues Man From His Union.

A milk truck driver of Duluth is no doubt thankful that there are courts in this country—in his case, to protect him from his own union.

This man's wife, an employe of a Duluth department store for 25 years, refused to go out when the store was "struck." She stayed on her job.

The husband's union found out about this and put him on trial. He was fined $1,500 and set back in seniority—for a decision his wife made, and had a right to make.

The man appealed to the courts and got a hearing. The judge, seeing the great injustice that had been done, canceled the fine and restored him to his union rights.

It is a sorry commentary on the state of mind into which unionism has got itself that the court had to be called on to curb such an excess.—Milwaukee Journal.

Veteran's Wife Wonders About Housing.

WASHINGTON — The controversy that goes on at the top here over policy on major, pressing matters often obscures the plain and simple problem that is directly involved for millions of people down below.

It is so with veterans' housing, now uppermost.

It is easy to lose sight of the individual really affected. It is helpful and timely to get his viewpoint. For that reason there is reprinted here excerpts from a most illuminating letter written by the wife of a veteran in a big city. It can be taken to speak for so many who are plagued with the same problem.

"Why," she asks, "is there such a campaign of propaganda under way in the newspapers, on the radio and in congress against the government's building homes for folks whose income is so very low?

"My husband is a veteran. We kept our spirits up for nearly four long years through the grace of God and the thoughts of a home. Not a swanky one which they clutter up Florida with. Only a small apartment, or flat, as they are called here up north.

"Until he came back, I kept him posted on what congress was doing toward making homes possible. I read and re-read a bill called the Wagner-Ellender-Taft measure. It sounded good to both of us. I didn't know how these homes would be built but I had worked in an aircraft plant and a shipyard during the war and saw the government build houses and barracks overnight, almost. So, I didn't see why the government couldn't do the job over again.

"When I go to real estate offices, where they have only old houses at prices not one out of 500 veterans could afford, and ask them when this building of apartments will start, they laugh and say: 'When the government gets out of the building game and lets us do it.'

"If I mention that housing is being built in England, they get quite excited and ask me: 'Do you want Communism here?' Which doesn't make sense because England isn't Communist. Then they hand me a pamphlet called 'Highlights' which blasts the government for wasting taxpayers' money by taking on the job of building housing. Yet I don't find any housing within range of our budget which private builders are offering. These things disturb me."

She said she saw a statement by Rep. Wolcott (R., Mich.) who "says the Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill isn't the answer," but they didn't Mr. Wolcott think up an answer when the men were overseas and expected to find a home when they got back? The American Legion has voted to recommend that all the emergency housing be liquidated, which means those veterans' families living there and the college students would have to be evicted. I presume members of the American Legion have their own homes now.

"We are much better off than others for we have an apartment in one of the emergency projects here. The catch is, that my husband, like many others, is finishing his education in—(another big city some distance away) and I hold a job here because my mother can take care of the baby. Because we had a child, we were turned down at so many apartment houses in—(where her husband is going to school) that I gave up trying. If we had a dog and not a child we could have rented some nice places.

"Is it fair, whether to veterans or non-veterans, to force this sort of existence upon young people? You can't have a family life without a home. It is getting a lot of fine young people down and it is the easiest way to wreck young families."

She spoke of the campaign against the reconverted emergency housing such as that in which she and her husband have an apartment.

"It is two bedrooms, living room, bath and kitchen. It was converted by the government, so I was told by my husband, from army barracks which he lived in before he went overseas. It is a swell job. Yet they say it is a waste of public moneys. If these old barracks were expendable what better use could have been made of them than to house young families?"

The young woman raises some interesting questions.

Trend Toward "Right" Appears In Mexico.

WASHINGTON—Our neighbors south of the border, in Mexico, have just inaugurated a new president. While Miguel Aleman was elected with the support of the labor movement, the trend in Mexico seems to parallel that in the United States in shifting toward the right.

The Aleman regime is likely to put an end to government operation of the Mexican petroleum industry. There have been persistent reports that North American capital will again be invited to share in the enterprise.

This time Americans would come in—if they do come in—not as outright owners. They would be asked to participate in a corporation in which the Mexican government would have a part interest, but as owner and not operator.

If this comes about—and the signs all point to it—an extraordinary cycle will be closed. It began with the drama of an Alfred Hitchcock thriller — intrigue, Nazi spies, high idealism, bribery and corruption, all rolled into one. That was the background of the expropriation of the oil properties owned by USA companies.

A minor figure in this strange drama, whose role has never been clarified on the record, was our own John L. Lewis. Not long after expropriation, Lewis visited Mexico City as the guest of Vicente Lombardo Toledano, left-wing leader of the Mexican Confederation of Workers. Lewis appeared with Toledano before thousands of the latter's followers in Mexico City's bull ring, which was hung with red flags.

Operation of the oil industry was taken over by a government-owned company known as Pemex. In recent months, Pemex has been under concerted attack. Skillful anti-government propaganda has been diverted against the corporation, which appears, even in the most favorable interpretation, to have been inefficient. The kind of technicians and administrators who could be expected to carry on such a project were lacking.

The new president of Mexico will face the immediate problem of an inflation that has reached serious proportions. The price of corn, the staple of diet, has increased six or seven times. This means that the ordinary Mexican, who lives on a low level at best, is poorer and hungrier than ever.

At the same time, a tremendous boom has been taking place. Block after block of apartment houses have been built. New night clubs have sprung up like mushrooms. Tourists and exiles have contributed to the spending spree. While the surface atmosphere, as President Aleman takes over, is one of high prosperity, the burden of spiralling prices fall even harder on the mass of the people.

Among the guests invited to the inauguration is Nelson Rockefeller, who during the war was U. S. coordinator of inter-American affairs and for a brief period assistant secretary of state. Rockefeller has been in Brazil, where he initiated an inter-American project of his own.

Joining with a group of Brazilians, he is sponsoring new industry in Brazil. The profits from his share of the project will go for philanthropies inside Brazil.

The possibility is not ruled out that Rockefeller will return to the government. Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden is again reported anxious to return to private business. That would leave the office of Latin American affairs open.

Whoever directs our relations with Latin America in the next two or three years will have a job on his hands.

HUNTERS AFIELD

ON the first early morning of hunting season, I saw a fine alert cock pheasant hurry along through the clover field to the east, and head for the thick line of brush and brambles by the road.

I marveled at his graceful movements and admired how the early light gave a faint iridescent color to his varied coat. Several days have passed, I have not seen him since. But walking along near where he disappeared, I saw that he was canny and knew his way around. For only the boldest or most ambitious dog would ever risk trying to enter beneath the low-grazing branches of wild plum, where red leaves tangled with bittersweet and greenbrier, to make a maze fit for protective coloring.

During that same forenoon, five hunters moved across the roadside, up the bank, onto the slope. Their yelping dogs went just ahead and I saw a large rabbit race along a narrow "rabbit lane," dash headlong into a drift of leaves and disappear. The hill is meshed with such thoroughfares. A second rabbit came dashing toward the oncoming hunters, then turned and dived through a maze of leaves in the same general direction as the first one.

When the men came up to where the boy and I were piling wood I asked the foremost what they had found.

"We saw a cock pheasant, but he was too far away. One rabbit hopped up but we didn't get a shot."

"Surely," I told him, "there ought to be rabbits here among the brush and weeds."

"I saw four here, myself, the other day," he agreed. "Now where have they gone?"

After they had left the boy looked at me and smiled.

"The hunters didn't see that place among the white thorn bushes," he suggested, "but the dogs were hot on a rabbit scent, and they got their noses hurt with tough green briers and white thorns. How is it, Dad, that the dogs can tell which way the rabbit has gone—why don't they ever run trails backward?

I told him I didn't know, and we made an agreement that the one who finds out first will tell the other.

After the hunters had gone in search of more abundant game, we walked slowly up to the white thorn group, overhung with thick leaves and purple berry clusters. I climbed a slender tree that, with my weight, swung over so that I could look down into the little enclosure among the bushes. No sign of life was there, but as I continued peering presently I discerned the head and long ears of one rabbit and then another . . . and still a third. All had "frozen" near each other, like so many toys.

Instinct, forethought or rare wild wisdom had foiled completely their ravenous pursuers.

WHETHER to jump from your partner's 1-No Trump to 3-No Trumps, or to make a forcing jump in your suit—that is a problem frequently confronting the holder of a substantial hand. Usually the solution can be soundly based on the answer to the question, "Is the suit a major or a minor?" Ordinarily, if it is a major the jump in the suit should be preferred; if it is a minor, the jump to game in No Trumps

There were many more variations of the bidding on this deal in a big duplicate Most of them came from South opening the bidding with 1-Heart Some came from South responding with 2-Hearts to North's opening 1-Club Valid reasons could be assigned for each variation In all cases, however, the final contract was either 4-Hearts by South or 3-No Trumps by North

Every heart declarer made his contract, losing only two tricks in trumps and one in spades, and nobody made a No Trump game except where bad defense made it a gift

Let's follow just one variation of the No Trump defeat A diamond lead was won by the K, and North led to the heart K, then a second heart to the Q A diamond repeat brought the J and Q, and the A was knocked out The heart 5 was led to the A, and the club Q took the return Two hearts were cashed, but when the clubs failed to divide, North lost the last two to the club J and spade A, to be set one At another table, North after the diamond lead worked on the clubs first, but was sunk when they didn't divide for him.

FAMILY MESSAGE NUMBER 7

How to handle money problems

when families double up

Under today's unusual conditions, two families often are forced to share the same living quarters. This creates many problems. Here are some helpful suggestions by Mrs. Anna W. M. Wolf, Director of the Family Consultation Service of the Child Study Association of America.

1 Live and let live

"Nowadays many older people are sharing their homes with married sons and daughters to tide them over this present difficult period of readjustment.

"Both families should respect each other's freedom, and remember that people of different ages very often have different tastes and needs. The younger people may like to go out for dinner or dancing occasionally without feeling that they have to explain. And, they in turn should always remember that living in someone else's home calls for tact and consideration."

2 Which expenses should be shared?

"When independent couples are living together, they'll get along better if they agree in advance to share the work as well as the common expenses such as food, rent, light, heat and telephone. It's best to do this right at the start. They should live up to the agreement faithfully.

"At times, unforeseen circumstances like illness may come up to alter these arrangements. When this happens, the money plan should not be too rigid, or rules too strict. Getting along well depends far more on the spirit of the agreement than on the form.

"At all times a generous spirit on both sides is basic."

3 How to make your plan work

"Keeping accurate accounts is valuable, especially at first. It's a good idea to know where money goes and why it costs so much to live. But more experienced people may not need to write down all their expenses—every cent they spend.

"Consideration about paying promptly makes for good feeling So does consideration about waiting for settlements when there have been special circumstances.

"The most important thing to remember always is that a spirit of mutual consideration is absolutely fundamental when families double up"

Watch for Family Message No. 8 about two weeks from now.

HOW TO PLAN FOR FAMILY HAPPINESS

Regardless of the size of income, any family can have more happiness and fewer worries by planning the use of the family money.

First: provide in advance for payments coming due, such as rent, taxes, mortgage charges, life insurance and other insurance. The easiest way is to bank small amounts each payday that will add up to the totals when due.

Second: set aside something extra each payday in the savings account until you build up an emergency fund.

Then you know what is left to spend on everyday family needs such as food, clothing, recreation—and what you can set aside for such family plans as a new home, education, travel.

Because the life insurance companies and their agents have long helped people to plan for family security and happiness, they are conducting this program of information as a public service to the 71,000,000 owners of life insurance and to every American family.

TRAFFIC DEATHS HIT 5-YEAR HIGH; ACCIDENTS RISE

Six Killed Through November In 92 Auto Mishaps; 22 Injured.

Deaths due to auto accidents have reached a five-year high in Mansfield so far this year, police department records showed today.

November's lone traffic fatality boosted the 11-month total to six, higher than any yearly total since 1941.

The department's monthly report showed that there were 92 auto accidents in November in which 22 persons were injured. This is the highest accident total since February and the highest injury total since May.

Arrests for traffic violations, meanwhile, although showing a slight increase over the October total, were lower, by far, than most previous months.

In November, 42 persons were arrested on traffic charges as compared to 40 in October. Only two other months had smaller totals.

A total of 234 persons were arrested in November on all charges including 94 for intoxication, 26 for gambling, 21 for disorderly conduct, eight for assault and battery, six for petit larceny and five for auto theft.

Four Drunk Drivers.

Four persons were arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated, one of the lowest monthly totals this year.

Twenty-one persons were booked on investigation charges and one each on charges of second degree murder, grand larceny, breaking and entering, being a suspicious person, keeping a place where prostitution is permitted and attempted robbery.

A total of 752 parking tickets were given while 24 others were given for crashing red lights and stop signs.

SENATORS WRANGLE OVER BILBO PROBE

JACKSON, Miss. —(U.P.)— The senate campaign investigating committee wrangled today over whether it should subpoena witness for hearings on charges that Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, D., Miss., prevented negroes from voting in the July 2 Democratic primary.

Public hearings were scheduled to start in the federal district courtroom as soon as the difference between Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D., La., and Sen. Styles Bridges, R., N. H., was settled.

Bridges wanted to issue subpoenas immediately while Ellender wanted to postpone this move until he sees how much evidence can be obtained voluntarily.

SEVEN DIE IN FIRE

ITHACA, N. Y.—(U.P.)—A mother and six of her 10 children were burned to death yesterday when a fire, believed to have started from a kerosene stove, destroyed their farm home 18 miles northeast of here. Dead were Mrs. John Dew, 45; Jean, 11; Patsey, 10; Beverly, 7; Jacqueline, 4; Lowell, 2, and Donna May, five months.

RETURNS TO WESTINGHOUSE—The appointment of F. E. (Ed) Ross as supervisor of household refrigeration advertising of the Westinghouse Electric appliance division was announced today by the company. Ross recently returned to the company after five and a half years of military service. He attained the rank of colonel in the infantry. He was with the company's advertising department from 1937 to 1941, when he handled refrigeration and laundry equipment advertising. Ross succeeds E. G. Hiett who resigned to become advertising manager of the Gorman-Rupp company.

Man Prefers San Quentin To Freedom

SAN QUENTIN, Calif.—(INS)—State prison officials admitted today there is not much they can do to force 72-year-old Antonio Di Tardo to leave San Quentin prison.

For the second time, Di Tardo has turned down an offer of parole, and there appeared to be no state law forcing a man to accept parole against his will.

Di Tardo was sentenced to a life term in 1920 for the slaying of his wife near San Jose, Calif. Following his capture he repeatedly attempted suicide by stabbing himself and swallowing creosote.

Guards who asked Di Tardo why he had turned down parole quoted him as replying:

"I got nobody. Here, I treat everybody good. They treat me good. Here, I like it. I stay."

POSTPONES CHANGE

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The army said today that the government's economy drive and the textile shortage had led it to postpone plans for equipping army personnel with blue dress uniforms. The army had hoped to include the funds in its budget request for the next fiscal year.

BEVIS TO SPEAK

CINCINNATI —(A.P.)— Dr. Howard L. Bevis, president of Ohio State university, will speak Friday night at the annual dinner of the Cincinnati club of the Ohio State Alumni association.

RENT CONTROL CALLED BASIS OF SHORTAGE

Property Owners' Spokesman Addresses Realtors.

Charging that OPA rent control was one of the principal reasons for inadequate rental housing, Frank E. Avren, Ohio public relations director of the National Home and Property Owners foundation, today called for a "sound national policy."

Avren spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Mansfield Real Estate board at Evergreens restaurant. He also will speak tonight at a dinner meeting at the YMCA before members of the Hermit club.

"Returning servicemen and other prospective tenants, rather than property owners, are the real victims of rent control," Avren said. "Property owners who find themselves losing money on a rental basis either sell their properties at the current high prices or withdraw them completely from the rental market."

Avren said the research department of the National foundation in Washington has found that between 15 and 20 per cent of the nation's residential units are being sold or converted into commercial use or are being kept idle.

The reason for this action, he said, is the "unrealistic approach" of the officials of the OPA. He charged that they would rather keep a number of people on the federal payroll than to solve the housing problem.

Denounces U. S. Action.

Avren denounced what he described as "efforts of the government to take property from the hands of the owners."

"We have seen under the operation of OPA what amounts to the confiscation of private living units by the government," he declared.

The 8 to 10 million owners of rental units in our nation have had their expenses continually increased while the rent from these properties have been frozen.

"It is to the common interest of both landlord and tenant to see that a sound national policy is adopted," Avren said. "Once we have even a few vacancies, then the rents will seek parity with wages and prices. The only real and effective price control that there ever has been or ever will be is competition."

He suggested the possibility of establishing local fair rent committees and the release of controls on units when tenant and owners agree on terms for a definite period.

AIR CRASH KILLS FIVE

BUENOS AIRES —(U.P.)— Five persons were killed and 13 others were burned seriously Sunday when an Argentine army transport plane crashed at nearby El Palaomar airfield. Two Argentine army captains and three crew members died in the crash, according to an air department communique.

supply, plus "a little" stoker coal on hand, "might last a couple of days."

Powley, who said he knew John L. Lewis personally, added this his (Powley's) son, who works in the mines, "makes $300 a month."

Warren Rusk, manager of the Rusk Brothers Coal company, said his company had appealed to the Solid Fuels Administration for relief. He added that he had "about a week's supply of lump and egg coal on hand now and two weeks' supply of stoker coal."

"We're hauling only single tons to everyone except apartment houses or commercial buildings. There we're hauling three tons to our previous six and seven-ton loads," Rusk said.

Shanghai Police Halt 2-Day Riot

SHANGHAI — (U.P.) — Armed with a "shoot to kill" order, Shanghai police today succeeded in restoring peace and order after a two-day riot that caused 90 civilian and police casualties and $1,000,000 (U. S.) property damag.

Armored cars cruised in downtown areas and police were instructed to bring and rioters before military courts.

Filipinos Cool To U. S. Money

MANILA — (INS) — President Manuel Roxas' secretary announced today that United States currency is no longer legal tender in the Philippine Islands.

The secretaary, Emilio Abello, made his announcement in reply to questions by newsmen who sought to find out why Philippine merchants suddenly started refusing to accept American dollars in payment for goods.

Mongolians Want Self-Government

NANKING —(INS)— Delegates from Inner Mongolia to China's national assembly were prepared today to ask Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for privileges of local self-government.

The delegates stated that Mongolian peoples fought alongside Chinese government forces against the Japanese but now were being treated unfairly by Chiang's central government.

BOARD STUDIES PAY

AKRON — (A.P.) — The Akron school board prepared to discuss at a special meeting today teacher demands for a $600 annual salary increase.

U. S. WILL DELAY NEW AID TO CHINA

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The United States will hold back any new large-scale economic aid to the government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek until some degree of order is restored in China, it was learned today.

Diplomatic sources said the state department had made it clear that the granting of a proposed $500,000,000 reconstruction loan was considered unwise under present conditions. China will continue to get aid, however, in form of UNRRA help, surplus property transfers and proceeds of smaller loans concluded previously.
